ENGLAND.

LOYAL TO DOCTORS.

King Has Been a Good Patient.

They Can Leave Him Now at Intervals.

Comparatively Little Pain is Caused by the Wound.

Drainage Tubes Removed Saturday—Soldiers Flock to the Palace—Fiji Hymn.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reynolds's Weekly tomorrow will say regarding the King's condition: "The King's condition is still more serious than the official bulletins indicate. It is still doubtful whether a second operation will not have to be performed. In that case, even if the King recovers, he would be a permanent invalid."

The Lancet says: "We are glad to be able to state that the King is progressing well, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. It will, we are sure, afford the greatest satisfaction to his subjects throughout the empire to know that the condition of the constitution of the illustrious patient is admirable. He is, moreover, an extremely good patient. He is absolutely loyal to the medical men. All these things we hope bode well for his restoration to good health at no very distant date."

The British Medical Journal prints the following: "The tubes were abandoned on June 29. The King is moved from one bed to another daily. He takes a great interest in the general news of the day. The anxiety of the physicians at this juncture was great. Sir Frederick Treves did not go to bed for seven nights. The bulletins have told the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

The Medical Journal appeals to the press and public to accept this as a fact, in order to prevent the circulation of unfounded rumors which must pain the royal family.

The King's illness has not yet been mentioned in the court circular. This, a survival of an old custom, which ordained that the King's illness was never to be admitted, for fear some rival would take the opportunity to seize the throne.

The latest speculative date for the coronation is St. Edmund's Day, November 20, when it would be of an almost exclusively religious character. This date, however, is in the period of the worst fogs, and any ceremony out of doors would be impossible. There would be danger of the procession getting lost en route to the Abbey.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.
DOCTORS COME AND GO.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Everything points to a satisfactory, if somewhat prolonged convalescence of the King. It is expected that the bulletins regarding his condition will soon be reduced to one a day. Only small crowds haunt the board at Buckingham Palace which is an indication that public confidence has been restored. Only one physician remains at the palace throughout the night, and all of the doctors are able to attend to the more pressing portion of their private practices. Sir Frederick Treves absented himself from the royal palace today to attend the wedding of his only daughter to Maj. Radcliffe.

A number of coronation guests left London today, including the Crown Prince of Norway and Prince Komatsu of Japan. Gatherings of distinguished persons said good-by to them at the station, where every one seemed to be in high spirits with regard to the condition of the King.

Crowds of soldiers now in London make daily pilgrimages to Buckingham Palace to gaze at the window of His Majesty's apartment, while people gather to stare at the strange uniforms and stranger faces of the soldiers from distant parts of the empire.

A striking scene was witnessed today. A big brake loaded with Fijian soldiers drew up in front of the palace. The men were bare-legged and bareheaded; their hair was long and dyed, and with their white cotton skirts and quaint tunics they presented a strange spectacle, even in cosmopolitan London. In front of the palace and to the amazement of the assembled crowd, the Fijians solemnly intoned a hymn of intercession in their native tongue, which was composed for the occasion by one of their number.

YESTERDAY'S BULLETIN.
WOUND CAUSES LITTLE PAIN.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 7 o'clock p.m.:

His Majesty had a comfortable day. His condition is still further improved, and the wound now causes him comparatively little pain.

[Signed] TREVES,
LAKING,
BARLOW.

Discussing the King's uninterrupted progress, the Lancet says it has been necessary to remove the drainage tubes, as they could not be tolerated, and gauze plugs are now used, instead. "The wound is granulating satisfactorily, the discharge has diminished, and is perfectly inodorous. His Majesty's temperature has been normal since June 26."

SEDATIVES NOT NEEDED.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 3.—The British Medical Journal this morning says: "[illegible] tion, says: 'As no more tubes or gauze necessary, since the operation to use sedatives to induce the King to sleep. To medical men who have read the daily bulletins, it has been obvious that the statements therein were entirely frank. There was great anxiety at first. Sir Frederick Treves did not go to bed for seven nights. But the load of anxiety is now lightened, if it has not entirely disappeared. The rumors regarding the King's general health are altogether unfounded, and confidence is now felt that, thanks in an unusual degree to his sound constitution, the King will make rapid recovery."

SMALL IRON PRODUCTION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Returns for the six months just ended show the production of all classes of manufactured iron in the north of England district to have been the smallest recorded in the history of the trade. The total was only 41,900 tons, compared with 46,206 tons for the same

GENERAL AMNESTY.

President Grants it to Filipinos.

Formal Notice of Peace in the Islands.

Gen. Chaffee is Relieved as Military Governor.

Criticism of Act Remitting Taxes on Stock Deals—Reciprocity Campaign.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The President has formally declared the restoration of peace in the Philippines, and has placed the islands under complete civil control, and extended general amnesty to the Filipinos who have been in rebellion.

These three things marking one of the most important chapters in Philippine history, were accomplished through the the issue of three separate orders and proclamations, one by the President over his own signature, extending amnesty; one through Secretary Root, by the President's order, relieving Gen. Chaffee from his duties as Military Governor, and a third, which takes the shape of a general order, addressed to the entire army of the United States in which Secretary Root takes occasion to express the President's high appreciation of the work it has accomplished, both in Cuba and in the Philippines.

AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.

The amnesty proclamation follows:

"Whereas, many of the inhabitants of the Philippine archipelago were in insurrection against the authority and sovereignty of the Kingdom of Spain at divers times from August, 1896, until the cession of the archipelago by the Kingdom to the United States of America, and since such cession many persons have, until recently, resisted the authority and sovereignty of the United States; and whereas, the insurrection against the authority and sovereignty of the United States is now at an end and peace has been established in all parts of the archipelago, except in the country inhabited by the Moro tribes, to which this proclamation does not apply, and whereas, during the course of the insurrection against the Kingdom of Spain and the government of the United States persons engaged therein, or those in sympathy with and abetting them committed many acts in violation of the acts of civilized warfare, but it is believed that such acts were generally committed in ignorance of those laws, and under orders issued by the civil and military insurrectionary leaders; and whereas, it is deemed to be wise and humane, in accordance with the beneficent purposes of the government of the United States toward the Filipino people and conducive to peace, order and loyalty among them that doers of such acts who have not already suffered punishment shall not be held criminally responsible, but shall be relieved from punishment for participation in these insurrections and for unlawful acts committed during the course thereof, by a general amnesty and pardon:

"Now, therefore, be it known that I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby proclaim and declare, without reservation or condition, except as hereinafter provided, a full and complete pardon and amnesty to all persons in the Philippine archipelago who have participated in the insurrection aforesaid, or who have given aid and comfort to persons participating in said insurrections, for the offenses of treason or sedition and for all offenses, political in their character, committed in the course of such insurrections pursuant to orders issued by the civil or military insurrectionary authorities, or which grew out of internal political feuds or dissensions between Filipinos and Spaniards or the Spanish authorities, or which resulted from internal political feuds or dissensions among the Filipinos themselves during either of said insurrections. Provided, however, that the pardon and amnesty hereby granted shall not include such persons committing crimes since May 1, 1902, in any province of the archipelago in which at the time civil government was established, nor shall it include such persons as have been heretofore finally convicted of the crimes of murder, rape, arson or robbery by any military or civil tribunal organized under the authority of Spain or of the United States of America, but special application may be made to the proper authority for pardon by any person belonging to the exempted class, and such clemency as is consistent with humanity and justice will be liberally extended; and, further, provided, that this amnest and pardon shall not affect the title or right of the government of the United States or that of the Philippine Islands or any property or property rights heretofore used or appropriated by the military or civil authorities of the government of the United States, or that of the Philippine Islands organized under the authority of the United States by way of confiscating or otherwise, and, provided, further, that every person who shall seek to avail himself of this proclamation shall take and subscribe to the following oath before any authority in the Philippine Archipelago authorized to administer oaths, namely:

"'I, ——, solemnly swear (or affirm) that I recognize and accept the supreme authority of the United States of America in the Philippine Islands and maintain true faith and allegiance thereto; that I impose upon myself this obligation voluntarily, without mental reservation or purpose of evasion. So help me, God.'"

GEN. CHAFFEE RELIEVED.

Gen. Chaffee is relieved of his civil duties, and the Philippine Commission is made the superior authority in the following order:

The insurrection against the sovereign authority of the United States in the Philippine Archipelago, and provincial civil governments having been established throughout the entire territory of the archipelago not inhabited by Moro tribes under the instruction of the president of the Philippine Commission, dated April 7, 1900, now ratified and confirmed by the act of Congress approved July 1, 1902, entitled "An act temporarily providing for the administration of civil government in the Philippine Islands and for other purposes."

The general commanding the division of the Philippines is hereby relieved from the further performance of the duties of Military Governor, and the office of Military Governor in said archipelago is terminated. The general commanding the division of the Philippines and all military officers in authority therein will continue to observe the directions contained in the aforesaid instructions of the President, that the military forces in the division of the Philippines shall at all times be subject, under the control of the military commander, to the call of the civil authorities for the maintenance of law and order and the enforcement of their authority.

EULOGY OF THE ARMY.

Finally, the President, through the Secretary of War, pronounces the following eulogy upon the United States Army:

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, July 4, 1902.

"The following has been recived from the War Department:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, July 4, 1902.

"To the army of the United States: The President, on this anniversary of national independence, wishes to express to the officers and enlisted men of the United States Army his deep appreciation of the service they have rendered to the country in the difficult undertakings which they have brought to a successful conclusion during the past year.

"He thanks the officers and the enlisted men, who have been maintaining order, and carrying on the military government in Cuba, because they have faithfully given effect to the humane purposes of the American people. They have, with sincere kindness, helped the Cuban people to take all the successive steps necessary to the establishment of their own government. During the time required for that process, they have governed Cuba wisely, rgarding justice and respecting individual liberty; have honestly col-

PRESIDENT TO TALK UPON RECIPROCITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President will make Cuban reciprocity a feature of his speeches this summer and fall. He believes that by the time Congress comes together again, the demand for action will be overwhelming. That is the feeling, too, of Senator Platt and others who stood by reciprocity from the beginning.

The President is pleased more with the Cuban plank in the Minnesota Republican convention's platform than with a similar plank in the platform of any other state, because Senator Nelson was supposed to be in effectual control there. Hitherto, it had been believed that no man was more familiar with public sentiment in his State than was Mr. Nelson with that in his. No man, it was also believed, represented it with as much faithfulness. In this instance, he appears to have misread the signs of the times.

To add to his chagrin and that of other members of the Minnesota delegation in Congress, it is learned that Senator Nelson and Representative Tawney had prepared, in advance of the State convention, a Cuban reciprocity plank which endorsed their position. Unfortunately the convention took the matter out of the committee's hands and adopted its own plank. "We favor reciprocity with Cuba, as urged by President Roosevelt." Tawney and his friends are at a loss to understand what happened. They think there must be some mistake.

TRAIL OF BLOOD.

More Victims of Outlaw Tracy.

Two Men Dead and Two Fatally Wounded.

Desperado Seems to Have a Charmed Life.

Makes His Escape from House Surrounded by Posse of Armed Men.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 3.—This has been a red-letter day in the erratic career of Convict Tracy. He killed Policeman E. E. Breese and wounded, fatally, Neil Rawley in the city limits this evening after having murdered Deputy Sheriff Charles Raymond of Snohomish county, and probably fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff John Williams of King county, early in the day. In his hopeless flight for safety with no consideration for human life, Tracy has covered probably sixty miles today.

Gov. McBride of this State, who is in the city, with Adj.-Gen. Drain, of the State National Guard, is taking the keenest interest in the chase. He has announced a reward of $2500. This, with others offered by relatives of the victims of Tracy's rifle, brings the total rewards offered to a total of $5800. The Governor further in offering the reward has ordered Gen. Drain to send two companies of the State militia to aid the posses, the members of which are scouring all the northern suburban territory of Seattle.

Sheriff Cudihee returned to the city at 2:30 o'clock this morning, leaving on watch a large number of deputies who will be relieved in the morning by the State militiamen.

STORY OF THE DAY.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 3.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Bothell says that Tracy, the escaped Oregon convict, this afternoon ambuscaded one of the posse and killed Deputy Sheriff Raymond of Snohomish county, perhaps mortally wounded Deputy Sheriff Jack Williams of Seattle and then escaped after a duel with two newspaper men. For the first time since he has escaped from the Salem penitentiary, he came face to face with his pursuers, but with deadly results for the latter.

After the battle, the convict held up a farmer named Louis Johnson. He informed him that he was a deputy sheriff on the trail of Tracy and impressed the farmer into service. They took the road for Ravena, it being the convict's intention to proceed straight down to Seattle.

SHORT AND DECISIVE.

The battle this afternon was short and decisive, Tracy escaping unhurt. His pursuers were Deputy Sheriff Raymond, Deputy Sheriff Jack Williams, Deputy Sheriff L. J. Nelson, Karl Anderson and Louis Sefrit. They walked down the railroad track toward Woodenville, where they met a man whom they mistook for the criminal, and held him up. They then went on down the track toward Seattle from this place, until they were a quarter of a mile west of Wayne. They met Deputy Sheriff Brewer, and reported back to Bothell. They heard that Tracy had been seen near Wayne. They doubled back on their tracks from Bothell and entered a cabin on the west side of Wayne. Here the party decided to make a search, as it was an ideal hiding place. Sefrit noticed a path running down to a cabin near the railroad track. It bore the fresh imprint of a man's foot.

"This is our place," said Raymond, and stepped forward to lead the posse to the cabin, Nelson and Brewer were on the east side of the cabin. Raymond, Sefrit and Anderson were on the west.

The men marched toward the cabin with their rifle and revolvers ready for action. The rain was falling almost in torrents. Suddenly from a stump about thirty feet away Tracy's face and neck shot into view, and at the same moment he flung his 30-30 Winchester rifle into position across the stump. The report was almost simultaneous with his appearance. He had fired point blank at Anderson, the bullet grazing his face. Anderson tumbled headlong into a ditch, partly stunned. The cold water into which he fell revived him, and he was on his feet in an instant.

RAYMOND FALLS.

As he arose Tracy again fired twice, and Raymond, who had just crouched to shoot, reeled backward, against Anderson, and dropped to the ground dead. As Raymond reeled back Sefrelt fired at Tracy, and the convict turned his attention to him. Sefrelt fell to the ground, and fired again at the convict. Tracy twice shot in quick succession at his assailant.

Anderson in the meantime had plunged through the brush to flank the convict. He met Nelson and Brewer. Before they could move a step Tracy fired three times, and a second later Williams crawled out of the brush on his hands and knees into the opening around the cabin with blood apparently streaming from every point. He was shot three times under the heart, and even as he appeared to view lurched to one side and fell unconscious.

The whole adventure had hardly

PIECE WORK NOT POPULAR.

Car Builders Declare Against It.

Burt Says Everything is Lovely.

Shoe Operatives Quit Work—Anthracite Strike—Right to Resist Mobs.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) July 3.—The strike of the machinists and boiler makers on the Union Pacific Railroad took on more serious proportions today, when the car builders and blacksmiths and their helpers, numbering 325 men, declared themselves opposed to piece-work system being inaugurated in the shops. A week ago it was announced that the car builders had settled their differences, but they declare that the settlement did not mention piece work.

If the company insists on enforcing the new system it is probable that the car builders and blacksmiths and their helpers will join the strikers.

BURT IS CHEERFUL.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA, July 3.—President Burt said today that there was nothing new in the strike situation from the company's viewpoint. He said he had no knowledge of dissatisfaction among the car men and blacksmiths. He also confirmed the assertion of the machinists that there had been no violence in the West. He said the traffic was experiencing no difficulty from the effects of the strike, and that the equipment of the road was in good condition. He added: "Everything is lovely and the Union Pacific Railroad is still in operation, and no plans have been made to suspend business."

Not a man was working at the machine shops in this city today. The strike leaders say that the situation is the same at nearly every shop on the system. Local President Webster is at his home at Evanston, Wyo. and Vice-President Wilson says the shops there will all be closed tomorrow.

The report that the boiler makers on the Northwestern Railroad at Missouri Valley Iowa had quit work is denied.

OPPOSE PIECE WORK.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, July 3.—"A strike of 700 machinists employed in the Baltimore and Ohio shops will be called unless the company abolishes the piece work system," is the statement made today by Business Agent Roderick of the railway branch of the International Association of Machinists.

Roderick returned from Garrett, Ind., today and held a short conference with the Baltimore and Ohio officials. The conference adjourned until later without having reached an agreement.

The piece work plan has been in operation in the shops at Garrett, but the company's attempt to extend the system to all the shops resulted in a movement by the men to abolish it. The union demands a wage scale of 30 cents an hour.

UNIONISTS LOCKED OUT.

BURLINGTON SHOE FACTORIES.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BURLINGTON (N. J.) July 3.—Four of the seven shoe factories in Burlington are idle today because of a strike of 700 employés, which is expected to extend to the remaining three establishments. The plants affected are the Budd Baby Shoe Company, said to be the most extensive manufacturer of baby shoes in the world; R. T. Wood & Co., the Standard Shoe Company and the Bastian Shoe Company. The seven factories employ more than 1500 men and women. Shoemaking is the principal industry of Burlington.

The strike is the result of a notice announcing that when the works opened next Monday none but non-union hands would be employed. The strikers assert that in recent years their wages have been reduced gradually until now they are receiving 50 per cent. less than ten years ago. In consequence of this reduction they formed a union for the purpose of securing better conditions. They have, however, made no demands on the manufacturers.

MITCHELL IS BACK.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) July 3.—President Mitchell arrived here tonight. He said he thought there was no change in the anthracite strike. While in Illinois he brought the operators and miners together in one of the bituminous districts, and peace again reigns there. Mitchell said he thought his visit to Saginaw, Mich., would have good results.

It was reported in coal circles today that as soon as the strike was over Coxe Brothers, at Drifton, intended to give their employés a 10 per cent. voluntary increase in wages.

PRESIDENT PREPARING.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Congressman Patterson of Pennsylvania, among whose constituents are numbered a large percentage of the striking miners called on the President today, and urged him to take some action with a view to ending the strike. The President expressed a hope that such a result would be accomplished before long. He said he was considering all the suggestions made to him on the subject, which might enable him to act intelligently in the event of an occasion arising where interference should become necessary.

UNION MEN.

SEEK CONTROL OF BREWERIES.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CINCINNATI (O.) July 3.—Samuel Gompers, en route to Lexington, Ky., for an address July 4, held a conference today at the National headquarters of the United Brewery Workers. It was decided to renew the contest for control of the United Brewery Workers in all branches of the brewers throughout the country.

Gompers is en route to the meeting of the National Council of the American Federation of Labor at San Francisco, and will hold conferences at several points before reaching the Pacific Coast.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Keystone Produce Company Burned Out This Morning—Flames Spreading Both Ways at Four O'clock.

This morning at 3:20 o'clock fire broke out in the wholesale house of the Keystone Produce Company, No. 376 South Los Angeles street, and before the department arrived the place was practically destroyed. The building was a two and a-half-story brick, owned by O. T. Johnson. There apparently was something highly inflammable, perhaps oil, in the store, for the water only served to spread the flames. At 4 o'clock the fire was reaching out in both directions, on one side to the Southern California Supply Company.

Indications at that hour were that the loss would be heavy. Nothing is known as to the origin of the blaze, but it is supposed that a firecracker started it.

Pink Gibson, Leader of the Party, Killed and His Body Blown to Atoms, and Nine of His Followers Are Injured by Explosion.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MAMMOTH SPRINGS (Ark.) July 3.—As the result of an alleged attempt at whitecapping at Union, a village in this county, yesterday, Pink Gibson, a well-known citizen, was blown to atoms and nine other men were injured.

Harvey Sexton received warning that a band of whitecappers were to visit his house with the avowed intention of killing him and dynamiting the building. Sexton barricaded the doors and with a rifle kept a sharp lookout. Yesterday morning the alleged whitecappers made their appearance and Sexton fired one shot, the bullet striking Gibson in the stomach and killing him instantly and passed through a pocket in which the dynamite was carried. Immediately there was a terrible explosion, and the ground for a number of yards was torn up. Nine of his companions were thrown to the ground, more or less seriously injured.

The party retreated immediately. Gibson was literally blown to atoms, small portions of his body being found long distances away.

Sexton notified the authorities of the occurrence and an inquest was held. No arrests have been made.

BAD WRECK.

Akron Express on the Pittsburgh and Western Collides With Butler Accommodation at Glenshaw, Pa.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—The Akron express on the Pittsburgh and Western Railroad collided with the Butler accommodation at Glenshaw, Pa., this morning and both trains were wrecked.

Four persons were seriously injured, one probably fatally. All are Pennsylvanians. About a dozen others were slightly hurt.

The cause of the accident is said to have been a misunderstanding of orders.

FINE STEAMER ASHORE.

PORT ARTHUR (Ont.) July 3.—The passenger steamer Iroquois, reported as overdue from Houghton, is ashore on Victoria Island, twenty-eight miles south of Port Arthur. The Iroquois was coming in from Duluth yesterday and went on the rocks in a fog, while trying to find the Victoria passage. It is not known how badly she has been damaged. The Iroquois is a new steel steamer, valued at $200,000, and belongs to Singer's white line.

TREATY WITH SPAIN SIGNED.

MADRID, July 3.—The treaty of trade, commerce and amity between the United States and Spain was signed today. Bellamy Storer, the United States Minister here, leaves Madrid July 4, to join his family in Switzerland. He will return in September, and complete other negotiations which are in progress with Spain.

Three Days' Fighting Terminates in Rout of the Government Forces.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT OF SPAIN (Trinidad) July 3.—[By West Indian Cable.] News has reached here that after three days' fighting the town of Barquisimieto, in the State of Tara, Venezuela, has been captured by the revolutionists under Gen. Luciano Mendoza.

Gen. Mendoza was assisted by Solagnoe, Pancho Batalla and Aular. The government troops were nearly all captured. One hundred of them, however, escaped with Gonzales Pacho, Governor of the State of Lora, in the direction of Trujillo. Four Venezuelan officers and Gen. Varela, the chief in command at Barquisimieto, escaped to the seaport of Tucacas.

Gen. Jacinto Lara has been appointed Governor of Barquisimieto by the revolutionists. This new victory is believed to prove once again the vitality of the revolution against President Castro. Revolutionists, who are estimated to number 4500 men, are now marching on Valencia, in the State of Carabobo, which is forty miles away. Valencia will probably be attacked within ten days.

The whereabouts of Gen. Matos, the leader of the revolution, is absolutely unknown to the Venezuelan government.

According to the latest reports received from Porto Cabello, the telegraph lines connecting that port with Valencia were cut eight days ago, and traffic on the English railway between these points has been interrupted for the last three days. It is believed that the revolutionists will shortly attack and capture Porto Cabello.

MUCH IN A NAME.

Lumas H. Holmes Refused to Change His Name to Secure a Legacy of Twelve Thousand Dollars.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) July 3.—Twelve thousand dollars, which the late Louse Frisbie willed to Lumas H. Holmes, of Springfield, provided he changed his name to Frisbie, will go instead to Vassar College. Louise Frisbie was Holmes's aunt. In her will, filed in New York, a year ago, Holmes was given until today to decide whether he would change to that of the donor. He announced that he will retain the name of Holmes.

OBITUARY.

Maj. Cook E. Cushing.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Maj. Cook E. Cushing died of heart disease at his residence in New Rochelle. During the war he served in more than a score of battles, beginning at the battle of Bull Run and ending at the Wilderness. He also served in various Indian campaigns. He was a cousin of Lieut. Cushing, who blew up the Albemarle, and Maj. Alonzo C. Cushing, who was killed at Gettysburg. His father was Maj. George W. Cushing, U.S.A. His brother, the late Gen. S. T. Cushing, U.S.A., died last year. The body is to be taken to Washington and interred at Arlington.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago had another strike today. The temperature ranged from 72 to 86 deg., but the excessive humidity made matters decidedly uncomfortable. The temperature has risen generally east of the Rocky Mountains. The wind continues in the southwest, and the Weather Bureau reports that indications are for continued unsettled weather. Thunder showers are scheduled to interfere with the celebration of the Fourth. Temperatures at 7 a.m.: New York, 70; Boston, 68; Philadelphia, 70; Washington, 72; Chicago, 62; Minneapolis, 64; Cincinnati, 80; St. Louis, 78.

PALMER'S AUTOMOBILE.

Alderman Honore Palmer returned to Chicago tonight from Cleveland, where his attempted trip to Boston came to a muddy end. He left his automobile behind him, with instructions to have it sent to the factory in the East where it was made, there to spend the summer in having the mud scraped off. Palmer was seven days on the road and only drove 410 miles.

WIFE GOT THE DIVORCE.

On the grounds of extreme and repeated cruelty and desertion, Mrs. Julia E. Allen Brobst was granted a decree of separate maintenance today by Judge Horton in her cross-bill against her husband, Rev. Flavius J. Brobst, who was the complainant in a bill for divorce brought against her on the grounds of cruelty, desertion and unfaithfulness.

SHE WILL PEDDLE PAPERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PONTIAC (Ill.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles S. Matson has appealed to the public through the daily press not to purchase any of the "Elijah" newspapers from his wife, who, he intimates, has been carried away by her infatuation for Zion. Last Saturday, he says, she peddled the Dowie publications in the rain, leaving their three-year-old boy playing in the wet, notwithstanding he was suffering with a bad cold.

FORBIDS DAUGHTERS' CREDIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PROPHESIED HIS DEATH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MANITOWOC (Wis.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. J. Reinhart, an old retired clergyman, prophesied that he will die this month. After supervising the digging of his grave in the cemetery and securing a tombstone, he took to his bed. His death is only a matter of a few days.

GOT OVER HIS BALK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

QUINCY (Ill.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William H. Doran, who was to have been married to Miss Nellie Parsons last December, but balked at the altar through timidity, returned here and married her. He went to St. Louis, and from there wrote a letter to Miss Parsons, explaining his action. The correspondence was continued, and this morning he arrived here to claim her.

BOY IN A BOX.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KALAMAZOO (Mich.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Express Messenger Fred Mall became suspicious of a large box in his car, and when his train arrived here tonight had the cover removed. Inside was found eighteen-year-old William Edmondson. The boy says he is going to Cheney, Wash., where his relatives live, and not having sufficient money to pay his fare, got a friend to box him up and ship him by express. He had two loaves of bread and a bottle of water for sustenance.

ESTATE OF MANY MILLIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (O.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Gilmore left Galion for Mexico, twenty-five years ago, after placing his four motherless children in an orphans' home at Indianapolis. For twenty years he was supposed to be dead, but word now comes that he has just died at San Luis and has left mine holdings worth $25,000,000. Search is being made for his children. The oldest, who is known as John Hall, is at Fort Riley, Kan.

WELCOME TO FIGHTING NINTH.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) July 3.—Nineteen officers and 261 men of the Ninth Regiment, United States Infantry, Col. C. F. Robe, commanding, comprising Cos. H, G, F and E, of the second battalion, and Cos. K, M, and L, of the third battalion, were the city's guests until midnight. Rochester gave a hearty welcome to the regiment, many of whose members hail from this city. Bells were rung and whistles blown throughout the city, upon a signal from the City Hall bell, that the train had arrived. The veterans were enthusiastically cheered by thousands gathered at the station.

COAST RECORD.

HIGHWAYMAN MADE TRACKS.

Passengers Got Drop on Modern Dick Turpin.

Bullets Sang for Him, but None Hit Mark.

Ex-Queen Lil Happy—News of De Windt and Harding—Beheaded by Train.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEVADA, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This morning at 10 o'clock the stage running between Truckee and Sierra Valley, was held up by a lone highwayman at the top of Sagehen Hill, which is just over the line in Sierra county. The driver, Al Richardson, and ten passengers were taken completely by surprise.

The robber carried a Winchester rifle, while his face was covered with a black mask. He stepped from behind a large tree, his presence frightening the horses, but Driver Richardson quickly obeyed the command to stop. Standing on one side of the road the highwayman commanded the ten passengers aboard to step out and line up. When all had gotten out, Richardson was given orders to throw out Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express box.

When informed that there was no box aboard, the would-be robber became enraged, making a personal search for the express treasure. While so engaged one of the passengers saw his opportunity to combat the highwayman, and drew a revolver from his pocket. The road agent realized that the passenger had the drop on him, and took to his heels, making haste, through the woods.

While the fleeing highwayman was dodging between trees and brush, the revolver was emptied, but it is not thought that any of the bullets took effect.

CLEARING RANGES OF HORSES.

FANCY PRICES IN WASHINGTON.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TACOMA, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fancy prices now being paid for wild range horses are rapidly resulting in entirely clearing them off the ranges of Eastern Washington. A few years ago, the ranges were covered by from forty to fifty thousand cayuses which were considered so worthless that no one would claim them or pay taxes on them. Rapid settlement of the country has caused the capture and breaking of thousands of wild horses, while thousands more have been shipped to Dakota, Minnesota and Idaho further South for farming purposes. The cayuses are now bringing from $25 to $35 each. They are easily rounded up, and the sale price is thus clear profit.

John Coffin of Portland recently shipped several carloads East from Connell, and has just taken an option on two thousand more unbroken range animals. There now remain eight to ten thousand wild range horses on the bunch-grass plains of Franklin, Lincoln and Klickitat counties. By another season, all of them will have been rounded up and sold.

RAIN, HAIL AND SNOW.

WEATHER BUNCHED AT SUMMIT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The people living at Summit and vicinity are experiencing very peculiar weather for this time of year. Day before yesterday there was a heavy fall of snow and yesterday a regular squall struck that section. Rain, hail and snow fell at different times, but did no damage. The weather is so severe that a number of men employed on railroad work there have resigned and come back to the valley, and will not return until warmer weather strikes the mountainous section.

Today is was raining in various places along the railroad. Reports of the cold and disagreeable weather in the mountains have caused large numbers of people to abandon the proposed pleasure trips to Tahoe and Donner lakes on the Fourth.

Heavy rains at Reno have destroyed most of the decorations for the street fair which was to open today.

INJURY TO CABLE.

NOT ACTION IN ADMIRALTY.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—In the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the schooner Guide, United States District Judge De Haven today dismissed the libel, upon the ground that the court had no jurisdiction. The judge decided that a cable is a mere projection of the land, and that a suit involving injury to a cable cannot properly come before an admiralty court. The telegraph company sued for $8000 damages for injury done by the anchors of the schooner to the cable between San Francisco and Oakland.

EX-QUEEN LIL HAPPY.

IN PURSUIT OF FORTUNE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Liliuokalani, formerly Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, arrived in the city at 7 o'clock this morning on her way to the home over which she once ruled, and is at present a guest at the California Hotel, with her suite. She is attended by Miss Myra Helelulue, lady-in-waiting; John D. Aimoku and Joseph K. Aeo. The ex-Queen appears to be in excellent health, and is feeling particularly happy over the prospects which are attending her efforts to obtain a settlement by the United States government for the crown lands in the Islands.

DAVIE A GOAT-HERD.

EX-MAYOR ENJOYS IT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

REDDING, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John L. Davie, ex-Mayor of Oakland, has been for over four months a rancher in the foothills of western Shasta county, doing hard manual work in the hope of regaining lost strength, and recuperating from a long siege of illness. Davie is now devoting himself to the care, culture and milking of goats, and health-giving goat milk is his chief article of nourishment. He has sole charge of a flock of 200 goats belonging to Gottlieb Loeffler, and is becoming proficient in their handling.

Yesterday, however, he was encountered by an old ram that caused trouble. Davie was stooping, attending to a little kid, when the warrior goat came up behind and entered into collision with the ex-Mayor. Davie sprawled over the ground and the goat looked complacently on as though enjoying the joke.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

MRS. FREDERICK TROWBRIDGE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Mrs. Frederick Trowbridge of No. 1036 Filbert street committeed suicide by swallowing part of the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid.

Her husband arose at the usual hour, and observed foam issuing from his wife's mouth. He spoke to her and attempted to arouse her, but she was unconscious. The physician found the odor of carbolic acid and administered the usual antidotes, but the poison had completed its work, and the unfortunate woman died. It is believed that Mrs. Trowbridge took the poison while temporarily deranged, caused by nervousness.

AUTHENTIC NEWS OF BRAVE EXPLORERS.

DE WINDT AND HARDING FOUND AT WHADY LUK.

Ice Having Gone Out of Straits it Was Impossible for Them to Make the Crossing as They Hoped When They Left Paris.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NOME, June 24.—[Wired from San Francisco, July 3.] Capt. Cottle of the whaler W. L. Bayliss, who arrived from the North today, reports succoring Harry De Windt and his companion, George Harding, who were in distress on the shore of Bering Sea. De Windt and Harding left Paris last December, intending to make an overland journey across Asia to America via the Bering Straits. They traveled to Yatuksk in Siberia, and proceeded thence by reindeer team to Mijni Kolyminsk, the most northerly settlement in Russia, and from there they traveled a distance of over 1500 miles onward.

Capt. Cottle found the two explorers at Whady Luk, an uninhabited cove, which is visited occasionally by passing whalers. De Windt and Harding were in a sorry plight. They had had a terrible trip across the country, their provisions were almost gone, and they had reached the coast only to find that the ice had gone out of the straits, and that it was impossible to accomplish the perilous feat of crossing Bering Straits on the ice. The captain supplied them with provisions, and he stated today that he believes they will make their way across in a native skin boat.

BRIEF COAST DISPATCHES.

Decapitated by a Train.

OAKLAND, July 3.—Elmer Hunter, 20 years of age, colored, was decapitated by a Southern Pacific freight train at Peralto wharf. The young man, after enjoying a swim in the estuary, climbed on a box car that was standing near the slip. He was hanging over the side when a freight train rushed by, knocking him off and under the moving train. The wheels passed over him, severing the head form the body.

Killed by a Fall.

SANTA ROSA, July 3.—From the effects of a .... received from a trestle between Hilton and Guernville, on Monday night, W. L. Coles, a former sergeant of police in San Francisco, died here this morning. Coles was one of a party taking a hand-car ride, and while crossing the trestle a wheel broke, throwing them below. Coles had both legs broken and was otherwise hurt. He was 75 years old. Tom Brown, a man named Hilton and two ladies, whose names were not given, were slightly hurt. Coles's body will be taken to San Francisco for interment.

Revenue from Northwest.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 3.—The annual report of the Collector of Internal Revenue Dunne, for the district of Oregon, Washington and Alaska for the fiscal year, ending July 1, shows that the sale of revenue stamps amounted to $1,091,385. After July 1 the district will be divided, W. D. Crocker of Walla-Walla having been appointed collector for Washington and Alaska.

Meeting of Prune Growers.

SAN JOSE, July 3.—The Executive Committee of the Santa Clara County Farmers' Club, has issued a call for a mass meeting of prune growers of the valley at 2 p.m., next Saturday, for the purpose of taking action in the matter of the prune situation as regards prices and as affected by the status of the Cured Fruit Association.

"Red" Kelly Captured.

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) July 3.—"Red" Kelly, a notorious smuggler, and six contraband Chinese were captured on the shore of San Juan Island yesterday by customs and revenue cutter officers. The smuggler and his passengers were brought here and lodged in jail late last night. Officers laid in waiting for Kelly, having information of the contemplated expedition from government officials in Victoria.

Stiger Property Transferred.

SAN JOSE, July 3.—Deeds were filed today by George Stiger, and sixteen other heirs of the late Adam Stiger, conveying what is known as the Stiger pottery property, consisting of about twelve acres of land lying between San José and Polhemus station. The stamps used indicate the purchase price to be about $45,000. This purchase will permit the company to do away with a curve, and to shorten its track 450 feet, and will also give additional switching and warehouse grounds.

Babe Drowned in Pond.

PHOENIX (Aris.) July 3.—Hazel, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Van Kirk, who live north of this city, was drowned this evening about dark, in a pond used for watering stock on the ranch.

Timber Frauds Cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The Federal grand jury today returned four indictments in the case of the alleged timber frauds in Lassen, Plumas and Sierra counties. J. M. Engle, W. R. Lewis, T. W. Lewis and A. W. Kiddie are charged with subornation of perjury and conspiracy in securing entries on timber land.

RAIN COMES IN TORRENTS.

Washout Causes Wreck of Freight Train.

Loss of Life Results from Fierce Wind.

Port Huron Cut Off—Flint Under Water—Tornado at Momence.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ROCHESTER (Mich.) July 3.—Two men were instantly killed and three were injured in the wreck of a double-header Michigan Central freight train near Thomas early today. The train ran into a washout. The dead:

ENGINEER WILLIAM S. M'GREGOR, Detroit.

JOHN O'GRADY, a tramp.

Last night's heavy rainstorm, which flooded this section and caused heavy loss everywhere, are responsible for the wreck.

SWEPT OVER PENINSULA.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

DETROIT (Mich.) July 3.—A rainstorm of torrential proportions swept over the lower peninsula last night and early today, doing tremendous damage. Crops suffered severely and there are numerous washouts on the railroads. In the southwestern part of the State the storm assumed the proportions of a tornado, and several persons were fatally injured in the wrecks of houses and barns. Great damage was done to the Western Michigan fruit crop.

At Flint the rainfall caused Swarts and Thread creeks to overflow, and the southern portion of the city is flooded. Several factories on the bank of the river are submerged. The Flint River is also out of its banks, and the Lewis paper mill is under water, and in danger of being swept away. Two bridges across the river are in danger. The total loss will aggregate nearly $100,000.

Port Huron is without means of transportation in or out of the city, the railroads and interurban lines being tied up by washouts. The southern portion of Owosso is flooded, and the damage will be heavy there.

As a result of washouts the Grand Trunk Railroad will be unable to run trains today between here and Chicago.

The track of the Detroit interurban line, Rochester to Detroit and Flint, is washed out, and traffic on the road is suspended. Crops have also suffered severely.

In Rochester the foundations of the Western Knitting Mill have been washed out, other buildings damaged, and the power-house of the Detroit United Railway is threatened. The power-house is located on the bank of the river, and the river is higher than ever known before. It threatens to undermine and carry away the building.

TORNADO AT MOMENCE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

KANKAKEE (Ill.) July 3.—A severe windstorm at Momence destroyed barns and other property, to the value of $50,000. The boiler house and sand house of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad were demolished, and five men injured.

WASHOUTS IN IOWA.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

MARSHALLTOWN (Iowa) July 3.—Railways suffered much from heavy rains last night. Six hundred feet of track and a span of the bridge at Hicks, on the Great Western, were washed out, while the latter's trains for St. Paul and Chicago are held, because of washouts on the Iowa Central near Abbott. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern lost two bridges near Cleves, and suffered a bad washout of tracks there. The Illinois Central also reports storm damage.

SNOW IN UTAH.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SALT LAKE (Utah) July 3.—Yesterday afternoon the thermometer registered 78; last night at 10 o'clock it had fallen to 42—the coldest July record since the establishment of the weather station in Salt Lake in 1874.

All of the mountain towns report a light fall of snow during the night. In Salt Lake Valley rain fell throughout last night, and this morning, greatly benefitting crops.

JEWISH REVIVAL MOVEMENT.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Under the auspices of the order of B'nai B'rith, a meeting has been held in this city at which several hundred Jews gathered to take part in the beginning of a great "Get Together" movement among the race in the United States. There are a great many Jews in America who have practically ceased to take interest in things Jewish, according to students of the subject, and this state of affairs is due to several causes, principally among which are the differences to which the divergence of origin among them and the great change in conditions in life here to what they have been accustomed to in their European homes.

BISHOP SPARED A TRIAL.

HARRISBURG (Pa.) July 3.—The Board of Inquiry of the Episcopal Church, to inquire into the charges of conduct unbecoming a bishop, against Bishop Talbot of the Central Pennsylvania, ended by a vote of 5 to 4 today that the testimony was not sufficient to justify the matter being referred to the House of Bishops for trial.

WHEATON'S PLANS FOR FUTURE.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Maj.-Gen. Lloyd Wheaton, U.S.A., has arrived here from Manila. Gen. Wheaton will retire from active service upon reaching the age limit of 64 years on July 15, and intends to stay in Chicago with his family.

BAD WRECK IN RUSSIA.

GRAUDENZ (Prussia) July 3.—A dispatch from Eytkuhnen, on the Prussian frontier, says the express from Graudenz to St. Petersburg collided with an excursion train near Gatchina, thirty miles from St. Petersburg, today, and that a number of persons were killed and sixty injured.

PIRRIE IN DEFENSE OF SHIPPING COMBINE.

HE DECLARES IT BENEFICIAL TO BRITISH INTERESTS.

Says It Was Established for Purely Commercial Purposes and on Business Principles and That Feeling Against It Is Due to Misapprehension.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The committee of the House of Commons appointed to inquire into the question of subsidies today heard William J. Pirrie, chairman of the Harland & Wolff Shipbuilding Company. This witness, who figured so prominently in the recent J. Pierpont Morgan ship combination, expressed the opinion that subsidies were given merely as a bounty, and segved to encourage inefficiency, and that even where they could be legitimately bestowed the tendency of subsidies would be to foster individual as against general interests. Pirrie regarded foreign subsidies as a blessing in disguise, as they stimulated British ship-owners to keep more abreast of the times.

Replying to a question of the chairman, Pirrie said the Morgan combine, which he proceeded to call a "community of interests," was established purely for commercial purposes, and on entirely business principles. He was convinced that a dangerous international situation was rapidly approaching at the time the deal was effected, but by the creation of this community of interests the future of the British shipping as well as of the British shipbuilding, was assured. In short, Pirrie considered the deal to be in a every way satisfactory to the British. Giving subsidies would only invite retaliation in the most important markets of the world. The extent of State assistance to German shipping was greatly exaggerated.

Pirrie also said that the feeling against the combination was due to misapprehension. All they had been doing was to act on the advice of the Prince of Wales, when he said "England must wake up."

Pirrie thought that the best way for the government to help British shipping was to deepen the approaches to and otherwise improve the chief ports.

READY TO GIVE SUBSIDIES.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, July 3.—There is increasing probability that the Imperial conference will take advisory action respecting a ship subsidy, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. The question would be readily settled if the imperial government would meet Australia, New Zealand and Canada half way in the payment of subsidies. A Colonial official, who is well informed on this subject, says a combination could be formed in twenty-four hours if the home government would agree to divide expenses with the colonies.

FOOD FOR EXCITEMENT.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 3.—Excitement has been caused in Liverpool by reports pointing to the "Americanization of the leading local provision firms. The shareholders of Fowler Brothers, one of the largest wholesale concerns, have received circulars inviting them to confirm a provisional agreement to sell their business to Gustavus Franklin Swift, president of Swift & Co., of Chicago.

The agreement with Swift was made by Anderson Fowler of New York, and includes the sale of the company's interest in the stockyards and warehouse company of Chicago and packing company of Kansas City. Among the conditions is a provision providing for the liquidation and dissolution of Fowler Brothers.

FOREIGN POLICY.

CRITICS HAVE INNINGS.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] When the vote for the Foreign Office came up in the House of Commons today the government's foreign policy came in for considerable criticism.

Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Radical) said he wanted to know if there had been any real negotiations with France looking to the settlement of the French shore (New Foundland) dispute, and he further declared that British recognition of French rights to the Hinterland of Tripoli endangered the traditional friendship of Great Britain and Italy. The new arrangements between France and Italy, he further asserted, had entirely upset the British situation in the Mediterranean and Eastern Europe. They had been made in order to put the screws on Great Britain. The feebleness of the government's policy in China showed the absence of a presiding mind.

Sir Charles also referred to the hostility to Russia involved in the Japanese alliance, and he advocated that a clear definition of the respective interests of Great Britain and Russia could possibly be secured by some sort of an arrangement with the Czar himself.

Continuing, Sir Charles asked if there was any secret understanding with Germany regarding her access to the Persian Gulf ,and urged the fostering of friendship with France. He concluded with moving a reduction of the salary of the Foreign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne.

Thomas Gibson Bowles (Conservative) defended the motion. He said he regretted the subserviency of the Foreign Office toward Germany, declaring she was the disturbing influence in China, and that Emperor William's telegram to Mr. Kruger was largely responsible for the feeling that produced the Boer War.

Henry Norman (Liberal) wanted to know if the government realized that Germany had practically secured exclusive rights in the Shantung peninsula, and that Rusuia had a complete monopoly of the enormously valuable mines of Mongolia.

BRODRICK NOT INFORMED.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 3.—War Secretary Mr. Broderick informed Jasper Tully (Nationalist) in the House of Commons today that he was not aware that a number of Irish-Americans were made prisoners of war, but that if such was the case their release will proceed on the same lines as other prisoners similarly situated.

"RUSTICATED" CADETS.

ASSERT THEIR INNOCENCE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Twenty-nine "rusticated" cadets of the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, left that institution this morning, protesting that they had not been connected with the recent incendiary fires started at the college.

As cabled to the Associated Press yesterday, the time limit of forty-eight hours given by Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief, to the cadets of the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, to deliver up those who have been guilty of starting the many recent fires at the college, in default of which the "rustication" of all the cadets was to be ordered, expired last night.

CZAR WANTS TO KNOW.

LONDON, July 3.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Express asserts that, in defiance of the advice of his ministers, the Czar has decided to give private audience to over 200 representative Russians of all ranks, including university professors, publicists, editors, political prisoners and even convicts, with a view of thoroughly probing social problems and discovering the motives for the assassinations of ministers and officials. They will be invited to tell the Czar frankly how threatened revolution may be averted, and by what peaceful means the distress and dissatisfaction of the lower classes may be met.

lected and expended for the best interests of the Cuban people the revenues, amounting to over sixty millions of dollars; have carried out practical and thorough sanitary measures, greatly improving the health and lowering the death rate of the islands. By patient, scientific research they have ascertained the causes of yellow fever, and by good administration have put an end to that most dreadful disease, which has long destroyed the lives and hindered the common prosperity of the Cubans. They have founded justice and secured protection for the rights of the innocent, while they have cleansed the prisons and established sound discipline and healthful conditions for the punishment of the guilty. They have reestablished and renovated, and put upon a substantial basis adequate hospitals and asylums for the care of the unfortunate. They have established a general system of free common schools throughout the islands, in which over 200,000 children are in actual attendance. They have constructed great and necessary public works. They have transferred the government of Cuba to the Cuban people, amid universal expressions of friendship and good will, and have left a record of ordered justice and liberty, of rapid improvement in material and moral conditions and progress in the art of government, which reflects great credit upon the people of the United States.

"The President thanks the officers and enlisted men of the army in the Philippines, both regulars and volunteers, for the courage and fortitude, the indomitable spirit and loyal devotion, with which they have put down and ended the great insurrection which has raged throughout the archipelago against the lawful sovereignty and just authority of the United States.

"The enemies by whom they were surrounded were regardless of all obligations of good faith, and of all the limitations which are imposed upon civilized warfare. Bound themselves by the laws of war, our soldiers were called upon to meet every device of unscrupulous treachery, and to contemplate without reprisal the infliction of barbarous cruelties upon their comrades and friendly natives. They were instructed, while punishing armed resistance, to conciliate the friendship of the peaceful, yet had to do with a population among whom it was impossible to distinguish friend from foe, and who, in countless instances, used a false appearance of friendship for ambush and assassination.

"Under all these adverse circumstances the Army of the Philippines has accomplished its task rapidly and completely. With surprisingly few individual exceptions, its course has been characterized by humanity and kindness to the prisoner and non-combatant.

"The President feels that he expresses the sentiments of all the loyal people of the United States in doing honor to the whole army which has joined in the performance, and shares in the credit of these honorable services.

"This general order will be read aloud at parade in every military post on the Fourth of July, 1902, or on the first day after it shall have been received.

TAFT CONGRATULATES ROOT.

PHILIPPINES ACT SUITS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Gov. Taft's estimate of the work accomplished in the Philippines by Secretary Root is set forth in the following personal telegram from Gov. Taft:

Secretary of War, Washington: Referring to telegram from your office of 2d inst., congratulate you upon most important step in your great work of constructing satisfactory civil government in the Philippines. None but those acting under you can fully know the debt the country owes you for the courage and original constructive genius involved in drafting instructions of April, 1900, and forming civil government without a precedent under the President's undefined authority as military Commander-in-Chief, almost within the sphere of war, which should furnish convincing proof to the Filipinos of the benefit of general peace under American sovereignty, or can realize the success of your plans in actual peace, and the vindication of them in the ratification of the Philippine Government Act.

CABLE FROM WRIGHT.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Secretary Root has received the following reply from Acting Governor Wright of the Philippines to his congratulatory cablegram sent yesterday:

Provincial government was inaugurated in Laguna July 1, thus completing the establishment of civil government over all the civilized people of the archipelago. Acceptance of American authority and general pacification complete. I beg to offer congratulations to you and through you to the President on the success of the wise and humane policy inaugurated by President McKinley and continued by President Roosevelt.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

House Would Have Jurisdiction With Senate On Reciprocity.

[NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3—Chairman Payne of the House Committee on Ways and Means today conferred with the President in regard to Cuban reciprocity. Upon leaving the executive quarters, Mr. Payne, in response to questions on the subject, said he was satisfied that reciprocity with Cuba would be effected at the next session of Congress with an almost unanimous vote in both houses.

The method by which this will be attained, he said, would be by treaty. Under ordinary conditions, he said, a treaty is ratified by the Senate only, but in matters of this kind, involving questions of revenue, under the Dingley law, the House, under the Constitution, has equal jurisdiction with the Senate.

The conference of Mr. Payne with the President and his subsequent utterances effectually put an end to all extra-session talk.

UNIVERSITY MUST TEACH AGRICULTURE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before starting for home today, Representative Kahn of California had a talk with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson about agricultural development in California. Mr. Wilson thinks that California contains today more agricultural possibilities than any other State in the Union, and to show his belief in the future of the State, he has directed that six different field parties from the department work in that State during the coming year.

Incidentally, Secretary Wilson feels bitter against the University of California for not paying more attention to educating young men and women in agriculture. That university gets $70,000 from the Federal government each year, and turns out no graduates in agricultural studies. Mr. Wilson thinks this ought to be changed, and he may himself attempt to take steps to have it changed before long.

WALL STREET PROFITS BY WAR TAX'S REMOVAL.

WHAT A SIMPLE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL DID.

Over Three Millions of Dollars in Unpaid Taxes on Stock and Bond Operations Wiped Out in the Closing Hours of the Congressional Session.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During the closing hours of the late session of Congress, without any noise or bluster, a bill was hurried through, which practically makes a present of $3,000,000 to the Wall-street operators. The work was done by the tacking-on of a simple amendment to a House bill, by which accrued war taxes on bonds deposited as collateral to secure call loans were remitted.

At the Treasury Department there is a strong inclination to criticize the law remitting taxes on stock operations, for the legality of the tax was only established after a hard fight between brokers and the department. The proposition to remit taxes was never submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, so far as can be learned, and the sudden passage of the law came as a big surprise to internal revenue people. The wiping-out of over $3,000,000 of unpaid taxes was accomplished in the Senate.

Two or three months ago, Congressman McCall of Massachusetts introduced a bill to refund certain taxes that had been paid on legacies and bequests for uses of religious, charitable or educational character, under the War Tax Act. There was no objection to this measure, and it promptly passed the House and went to the Senate. There it was permitted to rest quietly until about a week ago, and when it was apparent that Congress was about to adjourn, the bill was brought out of the Senate committee. It was then found to contain the following amendment:

"Section four. That taxes which shall have accrued before the taking effect of the act of April 12, 1902, entitled 'An act to repeal war-revenue taxation, and for other purposes,' and since July 1, 1900, upon securities delivered or transferred to secure future payment of money are hereby remitted."

It was adopted and went to the House, where it was rushed through among other bills that came over from the Senate in large numbers in the last few days of the session. The taxes that are now finally remitted by act of Congress were fought vigorously by the brokers from the very start. It was predicted some time ago that they would never be collected, but that they would be permitted to drag along until some fine day Congress would wipe them all off the slate. A department official today estimated that the daily tax on transactions covered by the law amounted to $10,000, or about $250,000 a month, and that the Senate amendment takes out of the Federal treasury just about $3,000,000.

QUAY MAKES A PREDICTION.

ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Quay of Pennsylvania, probably the shrewdest politician in the country, was asked today what he thought the result of the Republican National Convention of 1904 would be. It is very seldom that Senator Quay makes political predictions, but he did today. He said: "If I were a newspaper correspondent I would predict that at the Republican National Convention two years from now President Roosevelt would get the nomination without a dissenting vote. That is my opinion about what is going to happen. Nothing on earth can beat him."

Senator Quay is a "machine" politician. He always works with the "machine" when he can. The President never does. Therefore it follows that Senator Quay has made up his mind that "machine" politics are not going to work for the next few years.

MARE ISLAND CUT OUT.

LABOR UNION RESPONSIBLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Naval Appropriation Bill provided for the construction of one battleship in one of the government navy yards. Probably Mare Island would have obtained the contract, but for the activity of some labor union people located near that yard during the entire winter in behalf of the construction of all government ships in the navy yards.

This activity made several Senators very sore, and when an agreement was finally reached to build one ship in the navy yard, several influential men went to the Navy Department and asked the Secretary of the Navy not to allow the work to go to Mare Island. As a result, Secretary Moody has entirely eliminated Mare Island from consideration, and this great experimental task will be undertaken in some eastern yard, most likely New York.

NATIONAL BANKING INSTITUTIONS INCREASE.

OVER FOUR HUNDRED OF THEM ADDED IN FISCAL YEAR.

Their Authorized Capital Stock Exceeds Thirty Million Dollars—Total Authorized Capital in the Country Increased to Over Six Hundred and Eighty-four Millions.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Mr. Ridgeley, Comptroller of the Treasury, has made the following statement:

"During the year ended June 30, 1902, there were added to the national-bank system 437 national banking associations, with aggregated authorized capital stock $20,407,000, and with bond deposits as security for circulation of $6,012,750. Organizations effected under the Act of March 14, 1900, i. e., with capital stock of less than $50,000 (in a large majority of cases the capital being $25,000) number 237, with authorized capital stock of $7,247,000 the average capital of these associations being approximately $26,540. Included in the total number of organizations are 164 banks with total capital of $23,160,000, the individual capital ranging upward from a minimum of $50,000.

"In connection with the foregoing, it may be stated that since the passage of the Act of March 14, 1900, there have been organized 1061 banks with aggregate capital of $62,349,000 and with bond deposits of $15,442,500. Banks of the smaller class were organized to the number of 702, with a capital of $18,404,000, and to the number of 359 of the larger class, with aggregate capital of $43,945,000.

"During the fiscal year in question, the net increase of national bank associations was 308. Three associations failed and were placed in charge of receivers, and sixty-six closed by voluntary liquidation. Since the establishment of the system, there have been organized 6225 banks, of which 4546 are in active operation, 1392 placed in voluntary liquidation, and 287 in the charge of receivers.

"While the records showed that the authorized capital stock of national banking associations has increased during the year from $647,666,695 to $684,061,645, there has been a reduction during that period of bonds on deposits as security for circulation of $9,055,700. Circulation assured by bonds has decreased in the sum of $9,651,872 or from $325,890,683 to $314,238,811. Circulation outstanding secured by lawful money deposited with the Treasurer of the United States on account of failed and liquidating banks and those reducing their circulation has increased from $29,851,503 to $42,433,280, which has resulted in a net increase of outstanding issues, secured by bonds and lawful money of $2,929,905.

"The material changes in denominations of notes oustanding are confined to the fives and to the tens and the twenties. Of the bonds on deposit to secure circulation, notes aggregating $217,612,530, 2 per cent. consols of 1930 amount to $306,008,200, or over 94½ per cent. of the total deposits. The paid-in capital stock of national banking associations increased between April 30 1901, and April 30, 1902, to the extent of $30,297,712; surplus and other profits, $44,958,456; individual deposits, $218,024,748; and total resources to the extent of $321,341,064. The aggregate resources of reporting associations in April, 1901, and 1902, were $5,630,794,367 and $5,962,135,451 respectively."

GOVERNMENT FOR SAMOA.

CONSUL BLACKLOCK'S ADVICE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—William H. Blacklock, United States Vice-Consul and fiscal agent at Apia and Tutuila, Samoa, has arrived in the city to lay before the proper officials a statement of conditions in Tutuila and a series of suggested amendments to the present scheme of government of the islands, which experience has demonstrated to be necessary. It is thought to be desirable that the present system of absolue naval control over the entire island be modified so as to limit the naval commandant in the exercise of his purely naval functions of the naval station proper, leaving him to exercise the functions of a civil Governor in the remainder of the island.

It is also deemed well to afford the white natives and the few white civilians some sort of representation in the conduct of local affairs through the creation of an advisory council to the Governor.

A wider discretionary power is also asked for the Governor. By a singular omission, the natives never have received any acknowledgement from the United States government of their voluntary submission to our sovereignty, and Mr. Blacklock believes that to retain their good will this should be remedied.

BAILEY AND PENFIELD.

LEAVE ON SAME TRAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Bailey of Texas and Judge Penfield, solicitor of the State Department, who yesterday denounced Bailey in severe terms, did not meet here today. Senator Bailey, who returned from New York, was informed that his boy had been injured in a Texas railroad wreck, and he started for home this afternoon. Judge Penfield also left town for Indianapolis. Senator Bailey's friends heard that he and Judge Penfield had left town on the same train, and they were perturbed, because they knew that Bailey still is badly wrought up over the trouble growing out of his charges against Judge Penfield. Bailey said today that he would return here after the Democratic State Convention is held in Texas, July 14, and take up the case against Judge Penfield again. "Whatever I may decide to do or say," said he, "I shall say or do it first to Judge Penfield before I give out interviews for publication about it."

Bailey's friends insist that Judge Penfield should be retired from the State Department for his intemperate statement concerning a United States Senator. It may be, they say, that Bailey will request the reopening of the hearing of all the charges against Powell Clayton, Ambassador to Mexico, about which the trouble began.

CONDITION OF COTTON.

IS BELOW THE AVERAGE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The monthly report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture shows the average condition of cotton, June 25, to have been 84.7, as compared with 95.1 May 26, 1902, and a ten-year average of 85.6. With the exception of North Carolina and Virginia, every cotton-producing State shows a decline, it being greatest in Texas, where it amounts to twenty-two points.

The department's statistical agent for Texas telegraphed last night that the recent rains in that State have been of little or no benefit to the crop, and that a further deterioration may be looked for unless there is more rain by July 10.

CAPTURED SCHOOL TEACHERS.

BLOODY WORK HUNTING THEM.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Secretary Root has received the following cablegram from Acting Governor Wright of the Philippines in response to the War Department's inquiry concerning the four school teachers reported captured by the Filipinos in Cuba: Referring to telegram from your office of first instant, constabulary using every effort to recapture school teachers. Have killed and captured several of the gang. Latter claim school teachers still alive as late as June 26. Will furnish further information as soon as received."

The names of the teachers are Clyde France, Ernest Peger, Louis A. Thomas and John E. Wells.

MEAT-PACKING INDUSTRY.

CENSUS BUREAU'S STATISTICS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Census Bureau, in a report in the slaughtering and meat-packing industry of the United States for the year 1900, issued yesterday, says that the development of this industry during the last half-century has been almost phenomenal. During that period the capital invested has grown from $2,482,500 to $189,198,264; the number of wage earners from 2276 to 68,554, and the value of products from $11,981,642 to $785,562,633. For 1900 the report shows a capital of $189,198,264 invested in land, buildings, machinery, tools and implements, and the live capital utilized. The value of products is given at $785,562,433, which involved an outlay of $10,123,247 for salaries of officials, clerks etc., $33,457,013 for wages; $34,060,412 for miscellaneous expenses, including rent, taxes, etc.; and $683,583,677 for material, etc.; mill supplies, freight and fuel.

There were 921 establishments, with an average capital of $205,427, against 1118 establishments in 1890, with an average of $104,551 invested per establishment. The figures show this decade to be the most rapid in its tendencies toward concentration in this industry of all the periods covered by census statements. The number of women employed increased 185 per cent, and their wages 195 per cent. The number of children employed increased 183 per cent., and wages 174 per cent. since 1890. Illinois led the States in the value of products in both 1890 and 1900.

POLICE AND THIEVES WORK TOGETHER.

GROSS POLITICAL CORRUPTION IN MINNEAPOLIS.

City Officials Headed by the Mayor in a Combination With Swindlers for the Robbery of Unsophisticated Strangers—Detective Norbeck Confesses.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 3.—Interest in the trial of Superintendent of Police Fred W. Ames for bribery reached a feverish intensity today when Christopher C. Norbeck of the detective force, himself under indictment for bribery, described on the witness stand the whole system of "grafts." With the manner of one who was finding relief in unloading a guilty conscience, he told of his relations with the system of corruption, involving the superintendent in his disclosures, and before he could be headed off by an objection from the defense, implicating the superintendent's brother, Mayor A. A. Ames.

Norbeck said he had received orders directly from the Mayor to tell the Chief that he had been instructed to take orders from Inspector Irwin Gardner and "Billy" Edwards, a "big-mitt" man, in furtherance of the understanding reached with the administration for the swindling of unsophisticated strangers in the city. He was instructed to take care of "suckers," who made a "holler," and induce them by persuasion or threats to leave the city, and he had done such work for a year and a half.

The other witness of the morning was Roman Mix, who had been swindled out of a draft for $755, out of which he got $500 back by "squealing hard." He said Chief Ames advised him to leave town, and the police would get after the swindlers when he had gone. The Chief, he said, had advised him that it was useless to try to stop payment on the draft, as he had indorsed it for the swindlers, and it was now as good as gold. Mix gave the story to the newspapers, and the Chief told him he had "flushed the game," as the swindlers had undoubtedly jumped town when they read the story.

DEATH OF CAPT. MERCHANT.

Heroic Officer Succumbed to Disease Contracted in Arduous Service—Widow's Parents Reside Here.

[From the Army and Navy Journal, June 14, 1902.] Col. Dougherty, Eighth Infantry, under date of Santa Cruz, Laguna, April 9, announces the death of Capt. Bert H. Merchant, at the First Reserve Hospital, Manila, P. I., at 9:25 a.m., April 2, 1902, of acute amebic dysentery and acute liver abscess, heretofore noted in the Army and Navy Journal: After giving the record of the deceased, Col. Dougherty says: "Although never fully recovered from the malaria contracted in Cuba, Capt. Merchant has since his arrival in the Philippines rendered hard and effective service. For over a year he has been in command of his company and station, during most of this time being the only line officer present and compelled to attend to all the garrison duties of his command as well as the frequent field service necessary in the midst of a section of the country where the insurrection had not been wholly suppressed. Capt. Merchant was always eager for field service, and its arduous character, consisting largely of night marches over an exceedingly rough country, undoubtedly so impaired his system that he was not able to withstand the disease which attacked him. He truly and literally died of a disease contracted in line of duty. It seems especially sad that death should come to him when he was just receiving his merited promotion to a rank whose duties he had been so efficiently performing. Capt. Merchant's genial personality and attractive social qualities will be sadly missed by the officers of this regiment. To the young widow, who, coming to this regiment as a bride, has been so closely identified with its social life, the heartfelt sympathy of the regiment is extended."

[Mrs. Merchant, the widow of Capt. Merchant, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albers of No. 2640 Menlo avenue, Los Angeles.]

Deep Borings in the United States.

A Geological Survey bulletin says: The deep well borings of the United States, made for water, oil, and gas, are the subject of a statistical report by N. H. Darton, in the series of Water-Supply and Irrigation Papers of the United States Geological Survey. The list of deep wells is arranged by States, in alphabetical order, and appears in two pamphlets known as Water-Supply Papers Nos. 57 and 61. All wells 400 feet or over in depth are carefully listed. Depth, diameter, yield per minute, and other characteristic data are given, and many instructive details are noted indicating for what purposes the borings were originally made, the character of the product obtained, and whether the wells are in use or abandoned. For the benefit of persons desiring more detailed information concerning wells in any particular region, references are given to the literature on other sources from which the data were obtained. The large product of natural gas in the East and West, the enormous output of the oil fields in California, Texas, and the East, and the considerable and indispensable water supply furnished by the deep wells on the plains and in the arid and humid States, make concise and accessible information of this nature valuable for economic and scientific purposes.

Remarkable Game at San Francisco.

Senators Defeat Looloos—Tennis Players from Britain. Yachts and Horses.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The longest game ever played at Recreation Park, sixteen innings, was called by Umpire O'Connell on account of darkness with the score 3 to 3. Moskiman was wild at the beginning of the game, and up to the middle of the ninth inning, when the score stood 3 to 1 in favor of San Francisco, it looked like easy money for the home team. At this stage, after several people had prepared to leave the grounds, Dunleavy put the ball over center-field fence. Devereaux, who was on second base, came home and the score was tied. After this play, they fought and squabbled for seven innings without a run. Hodson relieved Moskiman in the eleventh inning, and pitched good ball.

San Francisco had many chances to score a winning run in the latter part of the game, but good fielding prevented them. Twenty San Francisco men were left on bases. Moskiman gave eight passes to first:

TURNER HAD THE PUNCH.

IT PUT LEWIS TO SLEEP.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKTON, July 3.—Rufe Turner, the Stockton lightweight, sent Willie Lewis of New York to dreamland in the second round of a twenty-round fight tonight with a right counter. Lewis made a fine showing and used both hands to good advantage, but colliding with Turner's sledge-hammer punch, he was put out. When Turner rushed and was stopped with a left jab, he sent in a right cross to the point of the chin, and Lewis was counted out long before he recovered consciousness. He was groggy an hour after the fight. The betting was ten to four, with Turner a favorite. Now Turner wants a chance at Gans at the lightweight limit. "Kid" Williams secured a well-earned decision over "Cyclone" Kelly at the end of ten rounds.

METEOR FINISHES FIRST.

LOSES ON TIME ALLOWANCE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KIEL, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Emperor William's guests on the Meteor during the return race from Eckenfoorde to this port included P. A. B. Widener, Allison Armour, Clement A. Griscom and C. F. Robinson, rear-commander of the New York Yacht Club; the Grand Duke of Saxony and Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia.

Though the Meteor finished first the Empress's yacht Iduna, won the first prize on time allowance. The Meteor was second. The British schooner Cicely gave up the race.

ENGLISH TENNIS EXPERTS.

ON THE WAY TO AMERICA.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, July 2.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The English lawn tennis team, consisting of the brothers Doherty and Pym, will sail for the United States about July 19, to contest for the American championship.

The English players today agreed to the proposal of the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., to play on the Crescent courts, and suggested August 6 to August 8 as being suitable dates.

JOB LOT OF HORSES.

COMPETE FOR RICH STAKES.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] At the Newmarket first July meeting today the Princess of Wales's stakes (10,000 sovereigns) for four-year-olds and upwards at a mile and a half, was won by Veles, ridden by Martin, the American jockey. Pietermaritzburg, M. Cannon up, was second, and Lascaris, Maher (American,) was third.

It is doubtful if a worse lot of horses ever previously contested for so rich a prize as ran in the race for the Princess of Wales stakes. The whole lot of competitors were hardly worth the amount of the stakes.

LAST DAY OF COMPETITION.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BLACK ROCK (Ct.) July 3.—In spite of a heavy rainfall and a wind blowing about twenty knots an hour from the southwest, the regatta committee of the Bridgeport Yacht Club determined this morning to have the Seawankva trial races continued today.

The course was triangular. The first and second races were won by Tecumseh.

The Crusader won the third race of the day, and the last of the series with the Frontenac, the second boat, over a minute behind.

BISBEE PALPITATING.

MINERS HAVING HOT TIME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The streets of Bisbee are thronged with people from over the entire Southwest. Gov. A. O. Brodie and his staff arrived today, and specials came in from El Paso and Phoenix, bringing hundreds of people.

Tomorrow the great drilling contests take place. The different teams chose their respective places tonight, and pools are selling fast on the contest. The Tarr brothers seem to be the favorites, although Mally and Chamberlain, the champions, have strong backing. No event has ever caused such excitement among the different mining camps. Several events of lesser importance occurred today, such as foot races, ball games and other sports. The gaming tables are surrounded and kept busy continually.

SAN JOSE RACES.

I. DIRECT, MATCH WINNER

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, July 3.—The fair of Agricultural Association, No. 5, was inaugurated here today. As usual on opening days, the attendance was small. The pavilion was not open to visitors, as the exhibits are not all in place. Very little exhibition stock is on the grounds.

The 2:40-class trot was won by Lijero in straight heats; Faust second, Tuberose third; Fabiola fourth, and Prince Howard distanced; best time, 2:21.

The match pacing race between I. Direct and John I was won by the former; best time 2:12¼.

C. F. Bunch's Spry Ruth and W. Masten's Dixon Maid were driven for records. The former got a mark of 2:36 and the latter one of 2:29½.

"LUCKY" BALDWIN'S LUCK.

COMES BACK IN QUICKSTEP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Lucky" Baldwin finally struck "pay dirt" at Washington Park today. After waiting for two months for something to turn his way, Americano, full brother to unlucky Cruzados, carried the California turfman's colors under the wire first in the Quickstep Stakes. Americano showed that the get of Emperor of Norfolk have not forgotten how to run in the mud.

Americano went to the post an equal favorite with Stemwinder. Dominick on the latter tried to win the race at the barrier, and his efforts in breaking up starts delayed the field twenty-five minutes.

When the field finally swung away from the barrier, Stemwinder cut out the pace, but rounding the turn into the stretch, Troxler brought Americano up, and it was all over. The colt simply galloped in the final sixteenth, and finished four lengths in front of Sidney C. Love, who was all tangled up at the start. Stemwinder, who was backing up at a frightful rate, was one length behind Love, with Joe Buckley leading the rear bunch.

JOHNSON AND RUSSELL.

THEY ONLY NEED A CLUB.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Managers Carillo and Fogarty, representing respectively the heavyweights Jack Johnson and Fred Russell, came to terms today, and a battle between the big fellows is now a thing that rests on the selection of the club before which to hold the fight.

Carillo had previously promised the Twentieth Century Club of Los Angeles a match with his man in August, and that club will be given first chance. The Acme Club of Oakland is also desirous of handling the event. Fogarty had a telegram from Russell today, dated at Chicago, stating that he will be ready to do battle in three weeks time. Russell is said to be a greatly-improved man since his appearance here three years ago.

BUYING MORRIS PARK.

DWYER ACTING FOR BELMONT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Philip J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, is the head of a syndicate to purchase Morris Park race track from A. H. and D. H. Morris, owners of the property. Dwyer is said to be acting really for August Belmont and several other millionaires.

The track has been on the market for some time. Alfred Hennen Morris, son of the founder of the track, has been eager to dispose of the property ever since the Ives pool law was wiped out, several years ago. Then all stakes were declared off. The track was to have been closed up, but August Belmont, James R. Keene and several other members of the Jockey Club formed the Westchester Racing Association, and leased the property from the Messrs. Morris.

THE PHILIPPINES.

POPE KNOWS THE TERMS.

Nearing the Conclusion of Negotiations.

Arbitrators to Fix the Price of Land.

Withdrawal of All Friars to Whom Natives are Hostile Insisted Upon.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ROME, July 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Gov. William H. Taft, of the Philippine Islands, today received a long cable message from Secretary Root, containing the department's final instructions concerning the note relating to the disposition of the friar lands in the islands, which was drawn up here Tuesday, and this afternoon Maj. Porter delivered the note to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal Secretary of State.

Gov. Taft was gratified on learning from the same message that the Philippine Civil Government Bill had become a law.

DIGEST OF NOTE.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, July 3.—Maj. Porter delivered the note personally to Cardinal Rampolla, who conversed cordially with him at some length, expressing the hope that the negotiations would be concluded in time to allow Judge Taft to leave Rome July 23. The Pope read the original note, which was immediately manifolded for the benefit of the Cardinals having charge of the matter.

The note covers fourteen typewritten pages.

It begins by acknowledging the Vatican's note of June 21, and says he (Judge Taft) is pleased that the Vatican approves of the sending to Rome of a representative of the President of the United States with the object of arriving at a satisfactory agreement on the questions in dispute, and to see that the general views of the Vatican are in harmony with the views of Secretary Root, although on one of the important questions, namely that of the religious orders, there appears to be a difference regarding the methods to be adopted in order to remove the admitted difficulty.

Answering the Vatican's note proposing to have the new apostolic delegate at Manila settle the question of religious orders, Judge Taft remarks:

"Thus would be lost the advantages expected from a direct contract clearly determining the principal lines upon which cooperation between the state and church may be assured."

The note proposes:

The purchase of the land of the Dominicans and Augustinian orders at a price to be determined upon by five arbitrators, two to be chosen by the United States, two by the Vatican, and one by a neutral, say the British governor of India.

The arbitrators to meet in Manila not later than January 1, 1903, examine witnesses and witness the lands.

The judgment of the majority to be accepted.

The price to be paid in Mexican dollars, one-third immediately, a third in nine months, and a third in eighteen months, with interest at 4 per cent. Payment is to be made to a person chosen by the Vatican.

The former Spanish crown lands, now in possession of the American government, on which there are ecclesiastical buildings to be handed over to an ecclesiastical official appointed by the Vatican.

The ordinary courts to decide concerning land retained by the church, but claimed by the municipalities.

It is hoped that when an apostolic delegate, competent to represent the Holy See, is sent to the Philippines, he will be able to decide which property used for charitable or educational institutions belongs to the church, and which to the state.

Cases of disagreement shall be submitted to the arbitration of the same arbitrators who shall also decide the San José foundation case, now pending before the Supreme Court of the Philippines.

The United States to pay an indemnity for the buildings used by the American troops, but nothing to be paid until the title deeds are in the hands of the Philippine government.

All friars of the four orders shall withdraw within two years from the first payment. A small number are to continue during that time, to look after the schools and universities, but all of them must go, half during nine months from the first payment, and half eighteen months' later, not including friars who have not raised the hostility of the natives and who remained in their parishes after the revolution of 1898 till now, except those in Manila. No Spanish friars may be substituted for those withdrawn.

The churches, schools and universities may be directed by Spanish clergy or orders other than those withdrawn, or by clergy of the same order who are not Spanish. It is necessary to convince the Filipinos that the ancient régime of the Spanish friars is finished.

The note reminds the Vatican that the orders still publish a paper in Manila, which is anti-American and anti-Philippine, but pro-Spanish, and that the orders possess property in Manila to the value of nearly six million Mexican dollars; while that of the Catholic Church is valued at only three and a half million Mexican dollars. This is very significant, as the orders have also a large capital at interest, besides the land which it is now proposed the government should purchase. To reach the desired object, the best thing is to prevent any member of the four withdrawing orders, without distinction or nationality, from being sent to the islands. Nothing will so calm the people and produce harmony between the church and the government as the certainty given by contract that the friars shall leave at a fixed date, shall not return, and shall not exercise any influence from Manila, or from the priests in the parishes. In view of these facts, it is hoped that the Vatican will accept the propositions.

The note ends with calling the attention of the Vatican to the clause regarding religious teachings in the public schools, saying that Judge Taft's instructions prevent further discussion of the matter. It also calls the attention of Cardinal Rampolla to the sixteenth section of general law for Philippine schools, a copy of which is inclosed.

The note is accompanied by the kind of contract which Judge Taft proposes will be signed.

RAILROAD RECORD.

RESSEGUIE RESIGNS AT KENDRICK'S REQUEST.

REASONS FOR THE ACTION NOT FOR THE PUBLIC.

Hurley Succeeds the Deposed Official as Superintendent of the Eastern Division and D. E. Cain of the General Office Will Succeed Hurley.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] C. F. Resseguie, general superintendent of the Santa Fé-Eastern grand division from Chicago to Newton, Kan., with headquarters here, resigned his position this morning at the request of Third Vice-President Kendrick, through General Manager H. U. Mudge, and J. E. Hurley, general superintendent western grand division from Newton to Albuquerque, with headquarters at La Junta, will be appointed to his place.

D. E. Cain, assistant general manager, will be promoted to Hurley's place. Mudge and Resseguie refused to discuss the reasons for the change any further than to admit that Resseguie's methods are not in line with the policy of Third Vice-President Kendrick, head of the operating department of the system.

Resseguie said: "I do not consider it any discredit to me to have lost this position. It is one of the unfortunate and disagreeable things incidental to railroad work. I have no definite plans for the future. I am looking for the first job that comes along, big or little, just so that it is respectable. I do not know what effect the change will have on men holding places under me."

Hurley has been with the Santa Fé since a young man, starting years ago as a telegraph operator, and working his way steadily up to his present place. Previous to coming here, he was for a time acting general superintendent of the Santa Fé-Pacific and San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley lines.

Cain was for fifteen years chief clerk in the mechanical department. Three years ago he was made chief clerk to Mudge, and three months ago was made assistant general manager.

This is the most important of the large number of dismissals made by Kendrick since he came to the Santa Fé from the Northern Pacific one year ago.

Kendrick returned a week ago from Europe, where he had an offer to become European manager of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, but it is understood turned it down to stay with the Santa Fé, provided Resseguie would be let out.

RIGHT TO RESIST MOBS.

UPHELD BY THE COURTS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PAWTUCKET (R. I.) July 3.—By a decision in the District Court today street-railway men during a strike have a right not only to protect themselves, but also the passengers and property of their employers, by the use of firearms against the violence of mobs.

Five motormen and conductors of the Pawtucket Street Railway Company, arrested on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, were ordered discharged.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—S. G. Morse, secretary of the local lodge of the United Commercial Travelers, who has been in attendance at the meeting of the supreme council of the order at Columbus, O., writes as follows to C. F. Hatfield, secretary of the World's Fair Fraternal Building Association:

"The matter of securing headquarters in the fraternal building for the United Commercial Travelers was duly presented and strongly urged upon the order by Past Grand Councillor Gould and myself, and was referred to the Supreme Executive Committee, with power to act on any plan best suited to accomplish the desired result, with a recommendation that they issue a call on all members for voluntary contributions of 50 cents. I think this practically ensures headquarters in your building."

What Has Built up The Great Credit House?

All stores begin small. When Brent's Great Credit House began business there were many older stores that were a dozen times as large. But Brent's grew. And HOW it grew! Folks talked and wondered. It grew broader and deeper and higher. And now it is the largest and most powerful credit house in the Southwest. Why? Simply and solely because no other credit system enables a man or woman to buy so much furniture for so little money and pay for it so easily and quickly. The larger Brent's grew the smaller its prices became. At present it has the inside prices with big factories. Its prices are always low, its furniture, etc., are always the most reliable, the newest, the best to last. Any honest individual who would like to furnish a pretty little home can be assured that the Great Credit House is his warm friend and will make it so easy for him that in no time and with almost no effort it will all be paid for and he will have a place for his family to be proud of.

Let your wife come and have a chat about it.

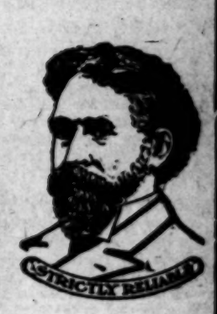
DOCTOR HARRISON.



There is no other institution so thoroughly and completely equipped to make certain and rapid cures of men's diseases as ours. We were first to class diseases of men as a specialty. These diseases were treated by the family doctor and druggists up to our time, 17 years ago, when we classified the specialty and took the most important step in the history of specialists' work many years before any announcements by others appeared in print. We have the diplomas bearing the necessary dates, also the printed documents showing our professional standing as authority on men's diseases years before our style of advertising was appropriated by others.

We Cure
Varicocele,
Hydrocele,
Stricture,
Piles, Fistula,
Blood Diseases,
Private Diseases,
Loss of Vital Power,
Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

Weakness, Its Cause and Cure.

Nearly every man suffering from so-called vital weakness has a curable cause which is at the bottom of the trouble. The main causes are stricture, varicocele, enlarged, inflamed prostate, results of abuses and excesses, badly treated disorders, etc., which obstruct the functional centers. When a man applies to us suffering from weakness we find and remove the cause just the same as an expert engineer or electrician finds and removes the cause when machinery fails to do its work. We have no difficulty in curing these cases; we have cured them by the thousands. We have the necessary knowledge, skill and experience to find the cause and give the proper treatment, thus putting the organs in a normal condition, when the weakness disappears, which was only a symptom of the real trouble.

Our book and colored plates will give you some valuable information on this subject. They will be mailed to you free.

Varicocele and Results.

Any case of varicocele which is left without proper treatment will, in time, result in complete loss of one half of the vital power; besides there will be more or less sympathy by the unaffected side often producing complete loss of vitality, say nothing of its effect upon the circulation, nerve centers, dragging sensations, and weary feeling produced. Varicocele produces a bunch of large knotted and twisted veins on the left side. They can be readily distinguished by the feel. We only want our patients from 5 to 7 days to guarantee a radical and permanent cure of every case. We have been curing varicocele nine years in Los Angeles and will show you cured cases in abundance if you are interested. Don't pay any money out on varicocele until the doctor shows you the actual cured cases among Los Angeles best citizens. We use no knife, ligature, caustic or electricity, but cure in one week with no failures.

Contracted Disorders.

Of all the diseases peculiar to men, contracted disorders are the most abused by cut and try, hit and miss treatment, administered by good friends, druggists, doctors in general practice and most of the would-be specialists. It is certainly interesting to hear the story of the average patient telling his experience with the different kinds of so-called treatment he has been "up against." A large majority of our patients come to us with all of the original disease and part or all of the complications resulting from delay and mistreatment. We generally have to cure them after some or all of the following conditions have developed: Chronic discharge, gleet, stricture, chronic bladder trouble, diseased prostate, sores, swellings, etc., besides a patient whose confidence and mind are also diseased through failure and disappointment. Don't trifle with these disorders, go to a doctor who knows how to cure you. It is the cheapest, surest and shortest way out. We have been 17 years in the business.

Contagious Blood Poison.

Every intelligent man knows something of the nature of contracted blood poison. He should know also that experience and first-class diplomas are essential requirements to the doctor who succeeds in curing this grave condition of the blood which invades every tissue in the body. The man who has been so unfortunate as to contract this disease should realize the importance of correct treatment. Skill and knowledge must rule or the patient will sooner or later find himself in a most extremely undesirable condition. It is this condition which resulting from bad treatment gives the disease the reputation of "incurable." Every case of specific blood poison treated in my office is cured and by cured we mean that every vestige of the disease is forever gone.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES pays to its skilled workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,020.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. The Times has a more skillful, reliable and satisfactory force of workmen than any rival newspaper establishment; and not for years has it had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and to themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

BUSINESS.

Weather conditions and an influx of "long" stuff sent the Chicago wheat prices downward. Corn largely followed wheat. Except for one flurry against the "shorts," Wall-street trading was easy.

TODAY, THE DAY OF DAYS.

This is the day we celebrate. It is a great day—the greatest in the calendar of dates, even though the proceedings may appear a trifle shopworn. Today Americans in the lands beyond the seas are flying the flag of glory, and the Declaration of Independence comes in for its annual airing before the listening multitudes. Today the Eagle screams. Today we recall the faith of the fathers who builded the nation on a foundation as solid as the eternal hills. Today the native and the assimilated citizen take account of the achievements of the republic, and look with eyes of confidence to the future that is brilliant with promise for the cause of law, liberty and righteousness. Today the stars in the banner gleam with special luster, and as the colors burgeon against the sky our hearts are thrilled, the blood is quickened, the pulses are stirred. The nation of valor, and industry, and splendid government is marching on to the greater glories that lie yonder in the offing of the Ocean of Time. Today Americans renew their vows of fealty to the flag and the Constitution; they recall to memory the valor of those who died that this nation might live a nation of free men; they recount in song and story the tales of intrepid valor that begem the history of these States of the Union; they praise God for the glory of His handiwork, and beseech the continuance of His favor as the expansion of these institutions of government makes for the good, the greatness, the comfort and the peace of the people of other lands. And again to the flag in yonder sky—salute and all hail!

"Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in Heaven;
Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us?"

In a dispatch published yesterday, relating to the census report on the newspapers of the United States, it was stated that "over one million and a quarter pounds of paper were used during 1900, of which almost 58 per cent. was consumed for newspapers." Evidently the word "pounds" should have been tons. The Los Angeles Times alone consumes nearly five million pounds of paper annually.

It may not be improper to designate Mr. Bailey as the political volcano of the Lone Star State.

MORE ODIOUS COMPARISONS.

The Sacramento Bee has issued an annual of thirty-two pages, profusely illustrated, containing a large amount of interesting and valuable information regarding the various counties of Northern California, their resources and prospects, and the inducements which they hold out to home seekers. Such publications have done much good for the southern part of the State, and there is no reason why if well done themselves, they should not prove equally valuable to Northern California. The Times would be pleased if it could say nothing but complimentary words for this evidence of enterprise and public spirit on part of its northern contemporary, but, unfortunately, there is one feature of the issue which we cannot approve, nor do we believe that it will meet the approbation of judicious and right-thinking people who are loyal citizens of the great State of California, whether they may happen to live north or south of the Tehachepi.

The Bee has fallen into that common error, which seems almost inseparable from any development movement undertaken by our friends in the northern part of the State, of making odious comparisons between its section and the southland. In the number referred to, an entire page is devoted to diagrams and letter press, illustrating "Northern and Southern California, a Comparison," in which the asserted relative insignificance of Southern California, as compared with the northern part of the State, is set forth in graphic and striking, albeit untrue manner, something after the style of the diagrams which we sometimes see illustrating a relative importance of the armies and navies of various countries, and so forth. For instance, one picture informs us that "Northern California is a land of Sunshine and Flowers." This statement may be readily admitted. But the artist is also called upon to illustrate, by means of a large black sun and a small red one, the asserted fact that Sacramento has an annual average of 232 cloudless days, while Los Angeles only enjoys 165. A very large black flume, and a small red one, show us that the proportion of water supply in Northern California and Southern California is as 100 to 1. Then, why on earth—and in water—don't you utilize it a little more? An immense black fruit can shows the fruit pack of Northern and Central California in 1900 to have been 2,000,000 cases, and that of Southern California 200,000 cases.

Two pyramids show the relative output of coal in Northern and Central California and in Southern California to have been $518,000 and $17,000, respectively. Yes, but how about the relative output of petroleum, which is a far cheaper and superior fuel, and is rapidly replacing coal, wherever it can be obtained? Similar comparisons are made in regard to the production of gold, copper and other mineral products, in the two sections.

A train of cars, extending clear across the page, indicates that, in 1901, the shipments of deciduous fruits to the East from Northern and Central California amounted to 9344 cars of ten tons each, while the shipments from Southern California—indicated by a small boy, wheeling a small barrow—amounted to only 23 carloads. But how about the 20,000 carloads—more or less—of citrus fruit shipped from the State in that year, of which less than 5 per cent. was shipped from Northern and Central California? Surely, if the Bee wished to be anything like just and fair, it might have added a diagram showing the relative importance of that industry.

By a similar drawing the fact is made plain, even to those who can scarcely read, that Northern and Central California produced, in 1901, 1,050,000 tons of wheat and 550,000 tons of barley, represented by a Brobdignagian sack of grain, the product of Southern California being represented by a little salt sack, with the figures omitted. It was probably not considered worthy of mention. A mammoth cow shows that Northern and Central California had 271 creameries, and a diminutive animal, about the size of a rat, indicates that Southern California only had 46.

Then we come to the question of climate. Surely, we might suppose that the Sacramento paper would leave Southern California a few good hairs in this line. But alas, no! It is true that the Bee lacks the hardihood to take Los Angeles and Sacramento as instances for comparison in this regard, but it selects Riverside in place of this city, and by means of a thermometer shows that, as far as temperature is concerned, the two places are just about the same. Although compelled to admit that the maximum temperature at Sacramento and the annual mean temperature for twenty years are just a small fraction higher than in Riverside, and that the lowest temperature at Sacramento during that period was a degree below that of Riverside, it brazenly, in an adjoining column, says "that the climate of Northern California is on the whole superior to that of Southern California." Two rain gauges show the average rainfall at Sacramento to be 19½ inches, and of Riverside 10 inches. It is possible that the Bee may succeed in convincing some of its readers that the climate of Sacramento is superior to that of Riverside, but among those there will certainly not be numbered many Southern Californians who have been condemned to spend a session of the Legislature at the State capital.

After reading this extraordinary exposé of our insignificance and worthlessness, we of Southern California may well be inclined to inquire what we live on, or, indeed, what we are here for? It is true that a table prepared at the beginning of the year by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce estimated the total value of the products of Southern California for 1901 (including miscellaneous manufactured goods) at about $50,000,000, but these things appear to have all escaped the attention—or at least not to have secured the recognition—of our esteemed Sacramento contemporary. The Bee says: "In Northern California, strange to say, the explanation of the relatively tardy development in some respects lies in the superiority of her natural resources." Then, all we have to say is: "Blessed are the poor!" What is the use of having millions of money if you go hungry and ragged?

As a comment upon these odious comparisons of the Sacramento paper, we shall content ourselves with publishing the following figures, showing the relative growth of Sacramento and Los Angeles, during the past twenty years:

	1880.	1900.	Inc. p.c.
Sacramento ...	21,420	29,282	37
Los Angeles ..	11,311	102,479	806

If it is true—which we do not admit—that the resources and attractions of Southern California are so utterly insignificant, in comparison with those of the northern part of the State, then can we possibly escape the logical inference that the people of Southern California must be very, very far ahead of their northern brethren in industry, and enterprise, and ingenuity, and in all that goes to the making of a country?

THE CANAL WILL BE BUILT.

Congress having at last enacted the necessary legislation for the construction of a canal to connect the waters of the Pacific with those of the Atlantic, and the matter of construction having been placed in the hands of the President, it is a tolerably safe assumption that the waterway will be built, with as little delay as is consistent with good workmanship and advantageous construction. The President is notably a man of action—a man of deeds rather than of words. He will undoubtedly take up this problem in the same progressive and practical spirit as characterizes most of his work, public and private. There will be no unnecessary delay at any point in the proceedings. Mr. Roosevelt has been commissioned by Congress to see that an isthmian canal is built, and he may be depended upon to execute the commission in a manner satisfactory to the American people, and as promptly as circumstances will permit.

As an indication of the President's intentions in this regard, it is gratifying to note that steps have already been taken to ascertain whether the Panama Canal Company can give a valid title to its properties. This is the first essential step in the construction of the canal. Until the question as to which route is to be adopted shall have been definitely settled, no progress is possible in the work of actual construction. It is needless to say that the President will leave nothing undone to satisfy himself whether the Panama title is valid or otherwise. It is just as certain that, should he find that the title is clouded, he will adopt the Nicaragua route, as he is authorized to do by the act of Congress, and will use all possible diligence in the building of the canal by that route.

It has been intimated that the President will adhere to the Panama route, even to the extent of asking Congress for further legislation if necessary, but there is no apparent justification for this assumption. He has shown an earnest desire that the work of construction shall be begun at the earliest possible date, and it is not in the least likely that he will look with favor upon any further dilly-dallying. The dirt will be flying, upon one route or the other, within a few months at the latest.

In addition to being presented with a sword of honor, Maj. Micah Jenkins of South Carolina has been presented with a good job by President Roosevelt. The latter is something that the major can cut ice with.

A SAN FRANCISCO OUTRAGE.

The ordinary citizen who needlessly obstructs a funeral procession is arrested and fined, as he ought to be. Respect is due to the dead, and consideration is due to those who are afflicted by death, as they follow the remains of their loved ones to the final resting-place.

Such respect and such consideration are shown in all civilized communities. Funeral processions are invariably given the right of way on public thoroughfares. Street cars and other vehicles, if they come to a crossing while a funeral procession is passing, wait until it has passed, in order that the procession may not be obstructed, delayed nor interfered with in its solemn march to the grave. Pedestrians almost invariably do likewise. An inate sense of propriety, and a regard for the requirements of common decency, impel all right-minded persons to refrain from showing disrespect toward the dead, and from adding in any way to the sufferings of those whom death has bereaved.

In San Francisco, as it appears, things are different. An Associated Press dispatch of July 2, from that union-ridden town, told of an almost unprecedented and unbelievable outrage perpetrated by the hackmens' union, in stopping a funeral procession on its way to the cemetery because one of the drivers was without a "union card." The driver was obliged to dismount, and the owner of the hack took his place, after which the procession was allowed to continue its journey to the grave. It was afterward shown that the driver in question had paid his initiation fee into the union, but that no "working card" had been issued to him.

It would seem that the insolence and brutality of organized proscription could go no further. Such an outrage on decency would have brought down swift and bitter public condemnation in almost any city outside of San Francisco. But the people of that union-cursed town seem to have accepted the incident quite as a matter of course. Have their ideas of propriety and decency become so perverted from long endurance of trade-union despotism that they have not sense and spirit enough to protest against so superlative and incredible an outrage?

Our delightful old Uncle Samuel is to have four big warships added to his flotilla of first-class shooters. Louisiana, Connecticut, Tennessee and Washington are to be honored in the naming of the new vessels, and that they will live up to their names when placed under the command of Yankee commanders is assured, for the American fighting man is a good one in an old tub or in an A1 fighting machine—it is all the same to him. The American navy cannot be made too efficient, and it is a matter of gratification to the people that there is to be no skimping in the matter of outfitting our sea force with tools to do business with. The way to preserve the peace is to be prepared for war. Our Uncle is heeling himself for every emergency; all of which is altogether correct and entirely lovely from every point of view.

Speaker Henderson contemplates a trip to California for the purpose of examining, scientifically, into some of our political volcanoes that are erupting at times and filling the circumambient atmosphere with hot air and other offensive matter. We shall be delighted to welcome the distinguished political scientist, and his report will be awaited with interest. He will run across some specimens of natural phenomena in these parts that will be well worth studying because of their unique and impossible character. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Henderson has to say when he first gazes into that San Pedro crater that is seething, boiling, bubbling and splitting the ground open, not only at the harbor of refuge, but all along shore.

London is managing to save something from the wreck of the proposed coronation in the reviews of the troops which came to take part in the ceremonies. And the spectacle, from all accounts, is decidedly interesting and inspiring. The cheers for the King will doubtless be good medicine for the monarch, whose advance on the road to recovery continues in excellent form, and most gratifying to patriotic Britons both at home and abroad.

The American iconoclast who is attempting the throw-down of Sir Thomas Lipton in connection with the latter's yachting bouts in Yankee waters is warned that the man who gives a game away always gets the worst of it. Even though the tea man was working an advertising scheme, he did it like a sport and a gentleman, and that is more than can be said for the Mr. Barrie who is saying measly things about Thomas.

Washington's escaped convict appears to be a combination of "Billy the Kid," "Sixteen-string Jack," Dick Turpin, Claude Duval and the Irishman's flea; but, all the same, Mr. Tracy will, sooner or later, attempt to hold up the wrong man, and then there will be something doing in connection with holes in a human carcass.

The union hack drivers of San Francisco even held up a dead man, but the remains continued silent and unconcerned during the entire proceedings. But the lines are getting drawn pretty tight when a man cannot take a last long ride to a cemetery without bumping up against union rules and regulations.

And now the possible annexation of Cuba will begin to keep some people awake o' nights. At the same time it might be as well for the people of Southern California to connect themselves with "don't worry" clubs and to look pleasant. Cuba isn't annexed yet by quite a lot.

Mr. Newlands of Nevada should not be too ready to force Cuba into the Union, if he has any desire to be popular in Southern California, where we grow oranges and other semi-tropical products.

Probably if the Kaiser's yacht Meteor had a Yankee skipper aboard she might make better time. A yacht, like a hoss, needs a master on deck in order to show the best work obtainable.

Fresno continues her manful and strenuous struggle with the insidious slot machine. Los Angeles, which was successful some time ago in freeing itself from these devices, might be able to give the Raisin City some pointers of value.

Russia is preparing to evacuate Manchuria. Correct: fire and fall back.

COGSWELL'S LATEST PORTRAIT.

The latest portrait painted by the veteran artist, William Cogswell, is of citizen Homer Laughlin. The picture is exhibited at Sanborn & Vail's art store on Broadway. Mr. Cogswell has accomplished a remarkable work, for he has obtained a living likeness of his subject with a fidelity that is satisfying to artistic taste—a photograph and a painting in one.

Mr. Laughlin is shown seated, looking from the canvas. It is a full bust, and the posture is far more life-like than is usual in a photograph. The blue eyes look through bow-glasses with an open, steely firmness that is almost disconcerting. The fine poise of the head is made to seem a reality. The method is the simple one of unrelieved light, which gives the appearance that the figure is standing out in relief away from the canvas. None of the artist's tricks of posing or shading have been employed to make what is called a suggestive picture that would bring to the imaginative spectator supposed characteristics, but by simple and straightforward handling of the brush and a comprehensive insight of the character of the subject, Mr. Cogswell has projected a picture that appeals as a faithful study of a strong personality.

SENATOR SMITH OF KERN.

The Riverside Enterprise (Dem.) prints this observation:

Recently there came to us by way of the Los Angeles papers a news item to the effect that a Henry T. Gage Club had been organized in Bakersfield, and among those who were down on the bill as having "also spoken" was Senator Smith, candidate for Congress to represent the new Eighth District. Senator Smith not only set the seal of his approval upon the Governor's candidacy by joining this political organization in the Gage behalf, but he is stated to have occupied a leading place at the feast and to have been one of the chief "rooters." As we recall, it is but a short time since that the Senator was playing with the Flint people, and in his journeys over the district was invariably piloted about by recognized and accredited Flint lieutenants. One on the outside is led to wonder now whether Flint has joined the Gage forces, or if not, where is Senator Smith really at?

The Gage people have been doing a deal of shouting about Senator Smith, but when the truth comes to the surface it will be found that they have shouted before emerging from the boneyard, where they are liable to get bogged down.

PUBLIC OPINION.

ON THE GOVERNOR'S BLUNDERING CAMPAIGN.

"A Poor Investment."

[Bisbee Review.]

Gov. Gage's libel suit against the Los Angeles Times for $100,000 will probably look like the proverbial 30 cents when the final judgment is rendered. A libel suit against a newspaper is a very poor investment, especially for politicians.

"Gage Has not Helped His Fight."

[Ontario Record-Observer.]

The political situation in reference to the Governorship of California does not clear very rapidly, but as the days go by some slight changes and adjustments are visible to those who watch matters closely. Gage has not helped his fight any by the method of his procedure against the so-called newspaper triumvirate.

A "Most Nonsensical Act."

[Willows Journal.]

Gov. Gage has issued a proclamation declaring July 5 a legal holiday. It was done at the request of many citizens of the State. As July 4 is a legal holiday it is about the most nonsensical act of the present Governor. Why business should be interfered with is a matter that needs explanation. We are given much to holidays already, and proclaiming another at such an unseemly time and for an inexplicable cause, is surely nonsense, plain and simple. But the Governor has done foolish things before.

"The Newspaper Hydra."

[Correspondence Fresno Republican.]

Can it be that the Governor means to discount the government improvements down there [at San Pedro] by running up an over-towering bluff? We are all patiently waiting the ventilation of the causes of the intense mutual disesteem now existing between the nominal head of the State and nominal heads of the newspaper hydra —that trinity of badness, "Call-Chronicle n' l' Lo Sang'lus Times." It is said every politician afflicted with mahogany furniture is now equipped with a certified pedigree thereof, showing that it is a family heirloom made way back before heirlooms and spinning wheels went into disuse.

"Truckles Too Much."

[North Ontario News.]

The fact that the News approves of Gov. Gage's course in suing for libel the defamers of his personal character, has led certain newspapers to set it down as a Gage paper. By no means does the News stand for Gov. Gage's renomination. As we said some weeks ago, he is not broad-gauge enough, and truckles too much to political bosses and the most corrupt element of the party. He has proven himself anything but a friend to the rancher, upon whose prosperity depends largely the living of us all. No, any good, honorable man will do, but not Gage.

The Governor's Delusion.

[Fresno Republican.]

The Governor is in the habit of asserting, and evidently believes, that he is popular with the people, and is going to be nominated and elected by them, but that the proprietors of most of the morning newspapers of the State have entered into a personal conspiracy against him. This is one of the strangest delusions that ever afflicted a public man's brain. The real opposition to Gov. Gage comes from the people, and the newspapers that truly represent popular sentiment. . . . It comes from the Governor's personal unpopularity, his erratic and pernicious policies, and, above all else, his known and acknowledged affiliation with the repudiated "push." These things can not be proved or disproved in a libel suit, and they were not made and can not be unmade by newspapers. The Governor has chosen his own political affiliations and methods. He is proud of them. The people are ashamed of them. Therefore they have determined no longer to keep him in a place where his shame is their shame.

His Last Blunder Settles It.

[East Side News.]

His Excellency, Gov. Gage, has now fully earned the title of His Petulancy. He has brought actions against Spreckels and Leake of the San Francisco Call for criminal libel, and has sued Otis of the Los Angeles Times for $100,000 damages. These actions are brought in San Pedro, the remotest point from San Francisco, and San Quentin, with the possible exception of San Diego or San Jacinto. . . .

And how do we, the people of California, look upon this latest blunder of our petulant Governor, who, with all his rashness and blundering, has saved the people a good many dollars at the spigot, while his San Quentin warden and others of his most mistaken appointees were drawing at the bunghole with siphons? We, the sovereign people, look upon this last blunder as settling the question of his renomination. A Governor with so many corns and so many persons to punish for treading on them, is not the man we want. We feel that a broad-gauge Governor, instead of bringing libel suits in remote villages, would have set all the machinery to work to secure an investigation and vindication. . . .

"The Governor Has Miserably Failed to Comprehend."

[San Francisco Call.]

The Governorship of California is not a personal possession. It is an official trust. The Governor, as a private individual, could not procure the appointment of Aguirre to the wardenship, no matter how close and affectionate their friendship. He did that as Governor. The relation of private friendship ceased when they entered into official relations with each other. They were the holders of public trusteeships, and their friendship became official entirely. Their private friendship was subject to rupture by the violation of the conditions upon which it existed. A breach of friendly faith, trading on personal credit, abuse of confidence, an act of dishonor, would dissolve personal friendship. The official relation of friendship is based solely upon fidelity to the public trust, held and administered for the people. Not the individuals Gage and Aguirre are concerned at all, but the public officials, the Governor of California and the warden of San Quentin prison.

Mr. Gage might wink at the peccadilloes of his friend Aguirre, as men do wink at those things, and will, world without end. But the Governor of California cannot wink at the act of the Warden in making by prison labor and perhaps material not his own gifts of luxury for a scarlet woman. Nor can one official overlook in the other the manipulation of accounts, forging of bills and corruption of public records beyond recognition for what the law intends they should be. . . .

With the offenses of Warden Aguirre it is totally different. They are public offenses, which the Governor of California cannot condone, compound nor compromise. They are against the people.

All this the Governor has miserably failed to comprehend. No sooner was the dirtiness at the prison disclosed than he jumped into it up to his neck. Then, realizing that it had damaged him, he seeks repair.

"Well, cook, and what did you think of it?"

"Lor', mum, she sang beautiful—just as if she was a-gargling."—[Tit-Bits.

CUSTOMHOUSE RECEIPTS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—The quarterly report of the customhouse at this port, just finished, shows some satisfactory figures, even though the oriental steamers have ceased departing from San Diego. The imports for the past three months were $51,626, of which $12,963 was free of duty, and $38,663 was dutiable. The total duty collected during the quarter was $13,350.71. The exports for the quarter were to the value of $43,765, and the transit trade was to the value of $4114.

DOG POISONER'S WORK.

The dog poisoner is still at work here. Mrs. Kate Wyatt lost her valuable dog, "Teddie," yesterday at the hands if this unknown miscreant. For almost a year now, some one has been systematically at work poisoning dogs, and always selects a valuable animal. No clue has ever been obtained as to his indentity, and the police are helpless. There has been a suspicion, for a long time, that the perpetrator is a woman, but there is nothing to substantiate this theory.

WILL RESUME PAYMENTS.

J. A. Rice, the trustee for the depositors of the defunct savings bank, thinks the payment of the cash turned in by Hiram Mabury may be resumed in a few days. An answer will be filed at once to the suit brought by R. A. Nichols, and which tied up this money, just as Mr. Rice had begun paying it over the counter to the long-waiting depositors. Mr. Rice had paid out $1000 when as an officer served papers upon him, stopping further payment. He has still $27,000 on hand.

MAY SOON PAY DIVIDENDS.

Receiver C. W. Pauley of the Golden Cross mines, is in town to spend the Fourth. He says the cyanide plant is still in operation, and is giving returns of about $11,000 per month. There are yet several hundred thousand tons of tailings on the dump. He thinks the stamp mills will resume as soon as the receivership is wound up. Sufficient gold can be obtained by the cyanide process to pay off the entire indebtedness of the company in six or eight months.

TENT CITY NOTES.

Tent City is well patronized by the Elks, twenty-four members of that order having engaged tents for the summer.

All preparations for tomorrow's celebration are completed, and the beach is crowded with people, in anticipation of a grand spectacle, especially on the bay after dark, when the illuminated boat parade, and the fireworks which are to be set off on a small island constructed for the purpose, begins.

Upward of 100 guests arrived yesterday, and the tent thoroughfares resemble a mid-way at an exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson P. Stephens left yesterday for New York. They will return after visiting Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott of Riverside, will remain here for the season.

Mrs. G. S. Gray of Redlands, arrived yesterday to attend the consecration of Rev. Restarick.

Mr. Spratt arrived yesterday from Los Angeles to take charge of the bowling alleys. As he is an expert bowler, his coming will doubtless stimulate that sport.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

A charming wedding took place in Whittier yesterday, the contracting parties being Miss Mabel Noyes of that place and Leonard Lewis Bacon of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noyes, and the officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Arnett. James A. Noyes, the bride's brother, acted as best man. The bridesmaids were four, Miss Eva Graham, gowned in white muslin de soie; Miss Frances Graham, who wore pale-green silk; Miss Addie Rich, in pink, and Miss Rosa Reynolds, dressed in white organdie. The bride herself was exquisitely costumed in cream crepe de chine, en traine, trimmed with point lace and pearl passementrie. All the ladies carried white carnations and ferns. The parlor was beautifully decorated with these flowers, the knot being tied under an arching canopy of the same.

The bride has been a successful teacher for two years, and is an accomplished musician. The groom, who is the son of E. E. Bacon, Esq., holds a responsible position in the Whittier State School.

Mr. and Mrs. Bacon will travel for a short time. They will be at home to their friends Wednesdays after August 1, in their new residence on Philadelphia street in Whittier.

Crawford-Dawson.

Miss Edith Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crawford, of No. 1021 Ingraham street, was married at her home Wednesday afternoon to George G. Crawford. Rev. Mr. Adams, assistant pastor of Immanuel Church, performed the ceremony. Beautiful floral decorations filled the home, and the bride was charmingly gowned. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will live in Fullerton.

Luncheon for Guest.

Miss Grace Gregory of San Francisco was given a luncheon by her hostesses, Miss Mary and Miss Anna Chapman, yesterday afternoon at their home, No. 203 North Soto street. Pink sweet peas and ferns incensed the air of the dining-room, and a large centerpiece of sweet peas decorated the table. The place cards were painted with watercolor pictures of colonial girls.

Whist Club's Final.

The New Century Whist Club was given a charming card party yesterday afternoon at the Westminster Hotel by Mrs. G. V. Huling. Beautiful decorations were used, patriotic colors predominating. Mrs. J. Smith Briggs assisted as hostess, and besides the club members there were present as guests: Mmes. John Newberry, Helen Ross, Charles Noyes, Frank Griffith and James Adams. The club now takes a vacation until fall.

Luncheon and Cards.

Mrs. Charles Hugh Babcock of No. 1151 West Twenty-fourth street entertained at progressive whist on Wednesday afternoon. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Lapham. The parlor and reception hall were decorated in red, and the dining-room in green. Refreshments were served. The prizes were won by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Badham and Mrs. Passmore. Those present were: Mmes. George Lawrence, H. E. Raymond, Edwin Clark, I. Barnum, William Badham, Nelson March, A. E. Boles, R. E. Williams, L. M. Pessure, Arthur Hutchinson, P. E. Weaver, J. B. Harrison, and Misses Lillie Warren, Byrdie Warren, Marina Clark.

Surprised at Eighty-three.

Mrs. E. Dickey was given a surprise on her eighty-third birthday Wednesday, July 2, at the residence of Mrs. Berry, No. 1216 East Fourth street. A sumptuous repast was served at 1 o'clock. Those present were: Mmes. Dickey, Berry, Tunnicliff, Cleland, Lindsay, Ellis, Rees, Richardson, Proctor, Brayton, Pike, Danes, Marx, Turner and Laughton; Misses Doris Proctor, Grace Tunnicliff, Waseland, Ruth Lindsay.

Birthday Party.

A large party was tendered Miss Amy Fricke, in honor of her eighteenth birthday, at her home, No. 776 Hemlock street. The evening was spent in music and games. Miss May Daly of Alameda rendered several cornet solos. Refreshments were served. Miss Fricke received many beautiful presents. About sixty guests were present.

Notes and Personals.

Hugh M. McFarland has gone East for several months. He will visit on the Atlantic Coast, and also in Ohio.

Mrs. Dr. C. H. Whitman of San Francisco is visiting her father, Rev. Dr. Goodwin, of No. 2624 Pico street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Clark have left for Seven Oaks, where they will go into camp for two weeks.

Edward C. Cribb and family are spending the Fourth at Avalon. Mrs. Cribb and Stanley will remain on the island till September.

Mrs. W. C. Hollister of Baltimore has taken apartments for the summer at the Angelus.

Mrs. W. E. Craig and Miss Fay Crandall will leave Monday for San Francisco.

G. G. Johnson and family are spending the summer at Ocean Park. Their home is at No. 153½ Dwight avenue.

A lawn party will be given on the campus at the University of Southern California this evening. Patriotic songs and addresses will constitute the programme, Mrs. Callender being the principal one in charge. There will be no admission fee.

Charter Revisers Adopt Report Providing for Initiative, Referendum and Recall, With Few Amendments.

Direct legislation won unanimous indorsement from the Charter Revision Committee last evening, that body adopting with but a few amendments the provisions for the initiative, referendum and recall compiled by the Board of Freeholders two years ago.

Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the Direct Legislation League, appeared and discussed the reform. The question was then brought up by the presenting of the report of the Committee on Public Utilities, composed of Bowen, Haas and Finlayson. The report was very generally discussed, the "recall" coming in for most attention. Scott moved that the provision that an official having once been reelected after a petition for his removal had secured a special election, would become immune to removal by election, be stricken out. He said the "club should be kept over his head," and Haas and Finlayson supported this policy. Bowen said it might subject officials to constant harrassment from their enemies, and opposed the amendment on the grounds of expediency. Bowen's was the only vote against the amendment, and then the whole report was passed and referred back to the committee for engrossment.

FOLEY "KNOCKS."

Member of Board of Education Defeats Passage of Report of Building Committee, Delaying Improvements.

Foley had his hammer out at the special meeting of the Board of Education, held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of passing on the report of the Building Committee, and for letting contracts on certain supplies. The efforts of the member from the Sixth Ward resulted in a failure to pass the report, his vote being necessary for that purpose. The original report called for the expenditure of about $10,000 in school improvements, but this estimate was cut down $500, and Foley objected because he claimed his ward was not to have what he deemed its share of the improvements. The progress of repairs and painting will be delayed considerably, but it is expected that some action will be taken at the next meeting to adjust the difficulty.

On recommendation of the Purchasing Committee, the following contracts were placed: Lazarus & Meizer, Golden State foolscap paper, 96 cents a ream; A. Zellerbach & Sons, exercise paper, 6 cents a pound. All bids for coal and wood were rejected and new ones will be called for.

BIG BLAZE AT HARTFORD.

HARTFORD (Ct.) July 3.—Fanned by a brisk wind, fire that started early this morning in the big plant of the Cape Well Horsenail Company spread rapidly and soon destroyed the entire plant. The loss is estimated between $300,000 and $400,000, which is nearly covered by insurance.

The American Habit.

Senator Berry of Arkansas is probably the only man in the Senate who makes a display of English gold. Attached to his watch chain is a jubilee sovereign, with a full-length figure of Queen Victoria upon it.

"No," said the Senator, "I did not get it in London? When Representative Dinsmore, who was Minister to Korea, was returning to this country a souvenir which he was bringing me was lost on shipboard. In order that I might not be disappointed, he had this English sovereign fastened to my watch chain. And as long as I wear it," added the Senator, laughingly, "some Englishman is just a sovereign poorer than he otherwise would be."—[Philadelphia Times.

One Deba, Jawsmith.

Labor that works with its hands and at the same time uses its intellect is decidedly getting away from Dega, who uses neither his hands nor his intellect, but is a jawsmith exclusively. The trouble is that labor has not got value received for its investment in Debs.—[Bisbee Review.

GOT TO GO.

Men of Family Must Work, Sick or Well.

Good food and the right kind will carry a man through almost anything. Commenting on the power of Grape-Nuts, an Oakland wife writes of the experience of her husband:

"Two years ago my husband had the pneumonia which left him in a sad condition, unable to work for several months. The doctor said he would have to be very careful or it would turn into consumption.

"We have a large family and he must work, sick or well. Hearing that Grape-Nuts was the strongest nourishing food we could find he began on the food with one egg, which would be all he would eat for breakfast.

"He left home at four-thirty every morning seven days in the week, and after two years' continued use of the food he is a well man. Even the cough has left him that troubled him so long after his sickness.

"Our youngest child, a boy of four and a half, was a very delicate baby. As soon as he could eat anything we started him on Grape-Nuts and he has grown to be a large child, taking a suit for a boy six years old. He is a very bright, strong, intelligent boy." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ask the cook to show you the recipe book in the package of Grape-Nuts.

FOR SALE—

A WORD TO THE WISE.

the ready now for the fall and winter trading. It is going to break all records. The people who have something to sell—bought wisely while prices were low—will be the people who make the money. You can buy inside property—and that is the only kind that is always safe—cheaper this month than you will ever be able to buy it again. But you must act promptly, for there are hundreds of others searching for the snaps, and snaps don't remain on the market long. We have only a few—of the old kind—though we are raking the town with a fine-tooth comb, and will find more if anybody can. But we cannot make promises about holding them. Come early if you want the pick. We have been buying and selling real estate in Los Angeles 13 years, and we haven't yet, that we are aware of, been convicted of poor judgment or deception of a client. If we tell you a piece of property is a good buy, or the contrary, you may rely on the counsel being "on honor." We can be, and take great pleasure in being, of assistance to buyers, and our services in this respect are at their command, without charge. If you design making an investment, or desire to dispose of something you already own, consult us.

Here are three notable snaps:

1. The S.E. corner Main and 16th sts, 66x115 with two houses, $11,500.

Fifteenth is a through and very important street. Main, many people think, will ultimately, and very soon, distance Spring and Broadway as a business thoroughfare, and claim that present values will be doubled before the winter is over.

2. The S.E. corner Main and Pico sts, 66x165 to a 20-foot alley, with two stores and a rooming-house at present rented for $90 per month, for $17,500.

3. The N.W. corner Main and 11th sts, 80x150 to alley, with fine 10-room house bringing in $65 per month, for $40,000. This is undeniably the best corner on Main st. south of Ninth. Electric cars on 11th will soon be running through to Main, and the anticipated magnificent Huntington Hotel, to be built on the Childs property and eclipse anything in this part of California, will be just across the street from it.

S. K. LINDLEY & CO.,
117 S. Broadway.

FOR SALE—SOME SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BUSINESS PROPERTY:

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS AND CASH PRIZES.

Golden Opportunity for Young Folks Who Are Struggling to Increase Their Store of Knowledge.

BEFORE the opening of the next school year THE TIMES will distribute a number of prizes in the shape of scholarships, fully paid, entitling the respective recipients to a year's instruction in one of the best educational institutions in Southern California.

These scholarships, which have a cash value of $30 to $150 each, will be supplemented by a series of cash prizes ranging from $70 to $150, to defray incidental expenses of the student while attending school.

LIST OF SCHOLARSHIPS.

The schools to which the scholarships will give entrance have been selected on account of their excellence in their respective lines. The list, which may be increased before the contest closes, is at present constituted as follows:

University of Southern California—College of Liberal Arts, One scholarship; Preparatory School, One scholarship.
Los Angeles College of Law—One scholarship.
Pomona College—One scholarship.
Occidental College—Two scholarships.
Cumnock School of Expression and Oratory—Two scholarships.
Brownsberger Home School of Bookkeeping and Graham Shorthand—Two scholarships.
Los Angeles Business College—Two scholarships.
Southern California Business College—Two scholarships.
Woodbury Business College—Two scholarships.
Throop Polytechnic Institute—One scholarship.
Los Angeles Military Academy—One scholarship.
Yale School (English and Classical)—Two scholarships.
St. Vincent's College—Two scholarships.
Los Angeles School of Art and Design—Two scholarships.
Los Angeles Conservatory of Music—One scholarship.
Los Angeles State Normal School—One hundred dollars cash for incidental expenses (tuition free.)

CASH PRIZES.

Including the $100 that will be given in lieu of a scholarship to a pupil of the Normal school, the list of cash prizes will aggregate $1030, divided as follows:

To winner of first choice of scholarships	$ 150.00
To winner of second choice of scholarships	100.00
To winner of third choice of scholarships	100.00
To winner of fourth choice of scholarships	100.00
To winner of fifth choice of scholarships	100.00
To winner of sixth choice of scholarships	70.00
To winner of seventh choice of scholarships	70.00
To winner of eighth choice of scholarships	70.00
To winner of ninth choice of scholarships	70.00
Bonus for pupil in L. A. Normal School	100.00
Undetermined	100.00
Total	$1030.00

The boy or girl who will secure the most paid-in-advance subscriptions in the aggregate, computed by "points" based on monthly subscriptions, will be entitled to first choice of the scholarships, with the accompanying cash bonus. The one who has the second highest number of "points" at the close of the contest will have second choice; the third highest, third choice and so on till all of the scholarships and the cash prizes are disposed of.

This plan gives all competitors an equal opportunity. All are on the same footing, whether they live in Los Angeles city or any part of Southern California or Arizona. The result will depend upon the "hustling" qualities and friends of the respective aspirants.

POINTS IN THE GAME.

On subscriptions to THE DAILY TIMES, paid in advance, the following credits will be given to the scholarship candidates in whose interest the subscriptions are made, twice as many points being allowed for a new subscription as for an old one renewed:

TIME	PRICE	NEW	OLD
One month	$ .75	50 points	25 points
Two months	1.50	120 points	60 points
Three months	2.25	200 points	100 points
Four months	3.00	270 points	135 points
Five months	3.75	350 points	175 points
Six months	4.50	440 points	220 points
One year	9.00	1000 points	500 points

Subscription blanks will be furnished on application at THE TIMES office or any of THE TIMES agencies. Money received on subscription by any of the aspirants for scholarships should be promptly turned in at THE TIMES office or handed to a regular TIMES agent, who will receipt for it and see that proper credit is given. A subscription blank filled out in duplicate, signed by the person to whom the money is paid, and handed to the subscriber, will answer the purpose of a receipt until a regular office receipt is substituted for it.

CHANCE FOR ALL TO VOTE.

In order to give every subscriber of THE TIMES an opportunity to participate in the contest, by expressing his preference for some boy or girl who is working for a scholarship or cash prize, a coupon will be printed from day to day, which, if cut out, filled in as per directions printed upon it, and sent to THE TIMES, will be counted one point in favor of the candidate for scholarship honors whose name it bears.

The coupons which reach THE TIMES office each day before 6 p.m. will be counted and the score printed on the following morning. It will be interesting to watch the figures. In order to facilitate the count and keep things moving, it is hoped the contestants will "cash in" as frequently as possible. It is a good plan for those competing to let people know that they are in the running by having their gains reported from day to day. The public is more apt to help those who seem to be making progress than those who lag. Therefore, show by frequent reports that you are working.

PATRIOTISM PRECEDENT TO SCHOLARSHIPS TODAY.

CONTESTANTS WILL CELEBRATE THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

After Holiday Festivities the Race for Educational Prizes Will Be Resumed With Renewed Vigor—Changes in the Score Yesterday.

This is the glorious Fourth of July, and the patriotic young Americans who are engaging in The Times Scholarship Contest will probably be too busy making the eagle scream to pay any attention to the contest. It is a holiday that they are entitled to, and The Times does not expect them to rustle subscriptions when everybody is celebrating. The Times hopes every one will join heartily in the festivities, and have a good time. The coupons printed in The Times today, however, count just the same as on any other day, and it will not detract from the celebration nor require much effort to clip them and send them to the scholarship manager.

The holiday period will last till next Monday, and it may not be practicable for any of the workers in the contest to accomplish much the remainder of this week. All can get ready, however, for a fresh start next week, when the real fun of the contest will only begin. So far there has been nothing but skirmishing and limbering up for the race. A few of the experienced workers who began laying their plans at the close of the last campaign for this one have been able to run up big scores at the very beginning, but the majority of the workers have not had time this week to get fairly started. Still, the general results are far ahead of what they were in the early days of last summer's contest. The management of The Times has every reason to be satisfied with the manner in which the contest of 1902 has started off, and present indications are that it will prove far more successful and satisfactory to all parties concerned than the very successful scholarship competition of a year ago.

Philip English, the Yale School student who gained the lead on the second day of the contest, still stands at the head of the list in the score. His plan of campaign is to induce his friends to pay for The Times in advance, for just as long a period as they can afford to do so, and the manner in which they have been accommodating him shows that his friends are of the kind that are not afraid to go down into their pockets to do him a good turn. He has not secured as many subscriptions as some of the other contestants, but they are of the kind that count—six months, one year, and even as much as eighteen months, paid in advance.

Miss Bessie Beatty, who remains in second place, has more months' subscriptions to her credit than any other contestant thus far, but they are not for such long terms as those of the rival who has displaced her at the head of the list. Miss Beatty has been handicapped also, by keeping up her studies in the Brownsberger Home School, and engaging in the contest only after school hours. She winds up the third day of the contest, however, with the handsome score of 4600.

Egbert Edwards of Occidental College made a spurt yesterday, and brought his score up to 3032, which was a lucky thing for him, as Miss Elsie Anderson of Pasadena was right after him for third place. She remains fourth, with a score of 2941.

Miss Florence Darch, the sprightly sister of Edna Darch, of musical fame, has moved up to fifth place, with a score of 947.

Miss Mary O'Shea is surprising her friends by holding sixth place with a score of 768, and she has hardly begun to work yet. Last year Miss O'Shea assisted Miss Belle Campbell to win one of the scholarships. This year she is after one of the prizes herself.

Harry Schalwitz had the Fourth of July fever too bad yesterday to do much work. He dropped back to seventh place, but added 100 points to his score.

Plucky Belle Campbell nearly doubled her score of the previous day, and now is eighth in the running, with 505 points to her credit.

Miss Gertrude Ellis is ninth, with 495 points.

Louisa Molina, a bright Spanish-American miss from Colegrove, has jumped into tenth place at one bound, with 325 points.

Miss Lola Greenwade, who is eleventh, did not report progress yesterday, but gained a few points, nevertheless.

Miss Annie S. Robinson of University, turned in her first report, and gained twelfth place.

Miss Gertrude Smith of Downey is the unlucky No. 13, but enough votes for her came in by mail yesterday evening after the count was closed for the day to place her much higher on the list.

That little acorn of Miss Violet Dawson has expanded to 172 points. A peculiarity of her vote is that it consists nearly altogether of coupons clipped from The Times, 139 being sent in to her credit yesterday. If all the friends of Miss Dawson who are giving her the coupons cut from their copies of The Times were to pay just one month's subscription in advance on her account, her little oak tree would be far more than fourteenth in size.

Niles C. Folsom of Santa Monica now occupies fifteenth place, but there is no telling where he will land after he turns in his next report.

Claude Rothrock of Long Beach, Winifred Beckingsale of Ontario and several other contestants in outside towns have sent in reports which arrived too late to be included in yesterday's count.

The country is going to furnish some surprises in this contest, as it did last year, when sixteen out of twenty-six scholarships were awarded to pupils living outside of Los Angeles.

Will city or country carry off the honors this year? The city makes the best showing at the start, but wait till the returns from the rural districts begin to pour in.

Let everybody get ready for a brisk campaign after the glorious Fourth.

SCHOOL FINISHED.

Closing Exercises of Institution on Boyle Heights—Bishop and Clergy Fed by Pupils.

The large assembly hall of the Boyle Heights Sisters' School was converted into a bower of blossoms and greenery yesterday afternoon, for the closing exercises. The capacity of the building was taxed to accommodate the crowd.

This school, and also the orphanage, is conducted by the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. It is one of the oldest institutions of this character in Southern California, and during the past year has had an attendance of 330 pupils.

This year there was no graduating class, but a good programme of recitations, music and class exercises was given. A tambourine drill by twenty little girls, and a rainbow drill by thirty-two of the larger pupils, won warm applause. A pleasing feature, appropriate one for this patriotic season, was the recitation in unison by twenty-four girls of "The Liberty Bell," as they surrounded the Goddess of Liberty, Miss Waite McDonald, who stood under a large floral liberty bell of red roses. Mrs. Hamar's classes in physical culture gave drills, and the musical programme was under the direction of Prof. H. E. Earl of Pasadena, assisted by Prof. Gardiner.

Bishop Montgomery and the local Catholic clergy attended, and the programme closed with an address by the bishop, and the distribution of medals and prizes.

The awards for the year's work are: Gold medal for deportment and proficiency in studies in grammar grade, Irene Brown; prize-winners in eighth and seventh grades, Emma Monica and Nava Gervais; sixth grade, Santina Dellabella and Louisa Garcia; fifth grade, Waite McDonald and Rose Solana; fourth grade, Margaret Driscoll and Irene O'Brien; third grade, Ruth Rogers and Angelena Rameris; primary, Helen Bedel and Frances Lopez; kindergarten, Helen Dolly and Edna Gregory; special prize for embroidery work, Lolita Deaver.

After the exercises the public was invited to inspect the exhibit class work, needle work, plain sewing and embroidery, while the bishop and clergy were tendered a banquet, the repast being the work of the girls of the cooking classes, who also served the viands.

THE "CALL'S" POSITION AND DEFENSE.

STRONG STATEMENT AGAINST GOV. GAGE.

The Governor is Employing the Official Machinery of the State in His Own Behalf and Evading the Legal Place for Trial.

[San Francisco Call, July 2.]

The Call desires to make its position in the proceedings begun by Gov. Gage perfectly plain.

On the 24th day of May we published that in the State's business at San Quentin there had been forgery and substitution of bills; that bills had been made out not in the handwriting of creditors of the State; that there had been substitution of items; that there had been unlawful manufactures carried on in the prison; that personal supplies had been charged to the State and paid for, on bills vised by the prison officers, and that of some of these unlawful and irregular acts Gov. Gage had been a beneficiary. Two days later, on May 26, Gov. Gage publishd a statement in his official organ that these charges did not affect him at all, but were against Warden Aguirre, in whose integrity he expressed the utmost confidence.

When we published these revelations we called for an investigation of the prison management by the proper authority, the directors. Without action by that body Gov. Gage professed to make a private investigation and immediately thereafter repaired to a justice's court in the township of Wilmington, 500 miles away from the prison, and filed a complaint against the proprietor and the manager of the Call for criminal libel, the same consisting of the matter published May 24, which he said on May 26 did not at all reflect upon or affect him.

On this complaint a warrant was issued, duly served and bail given. The defendants in this case realise the difficulties of an adequate defense at such a distance from the scene of the acts charged against the prison management, and so far from the testimony by which they can establish every fact stated in the alleged libel. Everything they have done since the service of that warrant has been in the interest of speedy and judicial investigation.

The justice of the peace in Wilmington to whom the Governor resorted could not take the testimony between now and the next election. To present our case before him in its entirety, in proof of the revelations we have published, within any reasonable time is a physical impossibility. Gov. Gage knew this when he went to an obscure forum in a place so remote from the scene.

While he shirks responsibility at the place where the Constitution gives his residence for all purposes except voting, Gage commands the whole power of his office and therefore the whole power of the State for his own benefit, in preparing and presenting his case. Paid by the people for his time as Governor, he is wrangling in his own behalf as his own attorney in his own cause. He has with him his secretary, also paid by the State. He has assisting him the warden of San Quentin, paid by the State, and he has the secretary of the Board of Examiners, as an outside skirmisher and an inside guide, philosopher and friend, also paid by the State. In addition to this his attorney, Denis, Code Commissioner, is paid by the State; his attorney, Freeman, Code Commissioner, is paid by the State; his attorney, Lerman, secretary of the Yosemite Commission, is paid by the State, and his attorney, W. W. Foote, who was his commissioner to the Paris Exposition and made then, as a sole exhibit, the nastiest scandal known in late years, is now a Yosemite Commissioner.

But what is the aim and purpose of all this indecency indulged in at the public expense? It is to get into a court where the case cannot be tried fairly because the jurisdiction is half a thousand miles distant from the evidence.

Our struggle is to get before a court of competent jurisdiction that is not under the thumb of any man or official, convenient to the documentary and oral evidence, where the testimony can be promptly and properly taken. We court the fullest publicity and the most complete judicial investigation of the facts which the Governor alleges libel him.

The suit of a Governor for libel of his official character is surely a dignified proceeding. It should not be degraded to the level of a proceeding for sheep-stealing, nor be had in a small and obscure court in a remote quarter of the State. Yet he chooses to have it so, and excuses the extraordinary proceeding, during an argument as his own attorney, by making an attack on all the courts of the State outside his own county.

We propose to exhaust every legal resource in the effort to bring the case to trial before a competent tribunal where it can be fully presented. We have faith in the remedies provided by law for those who wish to establish facts, and we have faith in the integrity of the courts of the grade and dignity that should have the required jurisdiction. If we fail to find a jurisdiction located where the fullest investigation can be had, then, and not till then, will we yield to a remote jurisdiction chosen by Gov. Gage not to facilitate, but to prevent such investigation.

CLUB CONVENTION.

Ferd K. Rule, who will attend this year's session of the National League of Republican Clubs at St. Louis or Philadelphia, will make an effort to have the convention of 1904 brought to Los Angeles. Time and place for the holding of the meetings are determined by the Executive Committee of the organization.

UNCLE SAM'S new mint, the greatest coin factory in the world, will be described in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday.

WHEELMEN'S ROAD RACE.

Course, Los Angeles to Santa Monica.

Florentin, Pearne, West are at Scratch.

Tennis Matches at Alhambra. Morley is Home Again—Gibbs in Town.

The twelfth annual road race to Santa Monica, under the auspices of the Cycle Board of Trade, will be held today, and, barring the unfavorable condition of the road in several places, the event promises to be interesting. All the best amateur riders now in the business are entered. There are only eighty-five entered, as compared with 134 last year, but many who rode then are out of the city, and a large number have quit racing, among those being Dee, Hamlin and Tommy Morris. Dee has taken up bowling; Hamlin is running an automobile store, and Morris is working for one of the railroads.

Last year these three men were placed on the scratch mark, but failed to finish one-two-three. F. Florentin, Guy West and F. Y. Pearne were on the thirty-second mark, and finished one-two-three as named. This year they are placed at scratch.

Over $700 worth of prizes are offered for the race, including a gold watch, two gold medals and a $25 suit of clothes. These will certainly spur the riders to their best.

The start will be made this morning from Main and Jefferson streets. The first bunch, four riders, will be sent away at 8:22 o'clock, and the remaining eighty-one at intervals of half a minute, according to their handicaps. The course is out Jefferson street to Western avenue, north to Adams street, west to Arlington street, north to Washington and west to Santa Monica, via Palms.

The road is said to be in only fair condition, there being a bad stretch at The Palms, both on this side of the town and on the other. The road there had been badly cut up by teams, and oil was sprinkled on it just a few days ago. The top is covered with pools of oil, while underneath there are three or four inches of dust. The wheelmen are forced to ride to one side or the other side the dust and sand is several inches deep. In other places the traveling is not of the best, and for these reasons none of the riders expect that the time made last year will be equalled.

Last year's time-winner was F. Florentin, who made the distance in 43:47. Guy West was forty-five seconds behind him, and F. Y. Pearne fifteen seconds behind West, or just one minute behind Florentin. The distance is about eighteen miles.

The officials for the race are W. K. Cowan, referee; R. E. Dow, starter; Lee Chambers, H. F. Burke, Bob Sayers and R. C. Hamlin, judges; T. Q. Hall and Phil Lyons, timers; W. L. Loos, handicapper; A. D. Tompkins, chief marshal.

The handicaps given the various riders are as follows:

RIDERS AND HANDICAPS.

Start 8:22 o'clock—H. H. Wheeler, Orville Grace, Bonnie Edwards, Ernest Clutterbach.

8:22:30—Thomas Thompson, Harry McKinnon, Fred Weston, Rube Emmons, C. B. Olds.

8:23—H. Florentin, F. Guirado, E. C. Crossman, J. Sepulveda, R. C. C. Potter, Charles Wagner.

8:23:30—A. Stoll, Harry Lightcap, Lee Wellington, E. H. Hitchcock, Louis Bickel.

8:24—C. C. Burritt, J. Brio, R. L. Harper, H. Herriman, J. B. Hawley, Joe Holliday, C. Hanrihan, Jay Conley, L. W. Robinson.

8:24:30—E. M. Cook, Fred Clutterback, Emil Liebert, Emil Price, J. Luchsinger, C. W. Dutton, F. A. Costa, R. A. Page, Raymond Bach.

8:25—O. F. Johnson, R. L. Badger, F. E. McCarty, Willie Burns, J. L. Armstrong, George Henderson, Milton Sparks, Fred Fitzgerald, Albert Serauno, A. W. Teague.

8:25:30—Frank Bates, R. G. Grimes, Roy Younger, Clyde McCoy, Jesus Hidalgo, Cal Roumel, Bert Moore, Irving Keimer.

8:26—C. C. Mettler, Pat Bodkin, Henry Miller, E. H. Long, A. J. Delaney, Ed Throop, A. Bradley, J. Durrell, F. Pipher, Paul Derkum, Charles Moya, R. M. Peck.

8:26:30—Will Rodriguez, F. Miranda, E. J. Gurney, W. A. Stephenson, Joe Aguayo, C. M. Quinby.

8:27—Paul Jordan, Charles White, Fred Applegate, F. Aguayo.

8:28:30—T. Salis, Garry Aguayo, R. H. Long, J. Robinson.

Scratch, 8:30—Guy West, F. Y. Pearne, F. Florentin.

The finish will be on Utah avenue.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

EXPERTS GOING TO ALHAMBRA.

Representative tennis players of Southern California will battle in an open-doubles tournament on the Alhambra courts today. The events will be men's and women's doubles, and the players will be the guests of Miss Gabrielle Dobbins and the Alhambra Tennis Club. Play begins at 9 a.m.

Among the teams entered are A. E. Bell and H. H. Braly of Los Angeles, William Bacon of Duarte and S. M. Sinsabaugh of Los Angeles, Frank Hart and Charles Sutton and Lewis R. Freeman and J. R. Britton of Pasadena.

The four Sutton sisters, Miss Dobbins and Mrs. F. H. Seymour and Miss Seymour of Redondo will represent the ladies.

A. C. Way of Los Angeles was prevented from entering on account of a death in his family. Prof. Paul Arnold of the University of Southern California may enter.

Several of the players are champions and former champions. A. E. Bell has held the Southern California championship for the past two years, and is in fine fettle for the annual tournament at Santa Monica next month. Lewis R. Freeman, who won this event three times successively several years ago, may enter again this year, after being absent in the north, where he won the open events in Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. Miss May Sutton holds the ladies' Pacific Coast, State and Southern California championship.

BASEBALL.

MORLEY RETURNS.

Manager Morley returned yesterday from his trip to Chicago after baseball talent, and reports that he has one, and probably more, players on the road. The principal one is Win Mercer, pitcher of the Detroit team who was here last year with the All Americans.

Morley says he needs a utility infielder, and told Mercer to get such a man if possible. Mercer is expected next Monday with the Looloos returning from Sacramento. There are plenty of ball players in the East looking for jobs, but Morley states that with Mercer as a pitcher and captain he is ready to take a chance with the Looloos as they line up now. Mercer will be captain and sole manager.

Cruise of the Yachts.

Seven or eight boats of the South Coast Yacht Club will start today from San Pedro for a three-days' cruise. They will leave Dead Man's Island at 11 o'clock and sail to Avalon, remaining there all night. Tomorrow they will go to the isthmus, for a day and night visit, and on Sunday will sail for San Pedro. A consignment of fireworks will be taken along so the amateur sailors can celebrate the holiday in a proper American way.

Pugilism.

Young Gibbs has arrived to finish his training for his bout with Al Neil before the Century Athletic Club on 11th inst. Neil and Gibbs have been training hard. In meeting Neil, Gibbs will concede a few pounds, but the general opinion among those that follow the game closely is that there is a surprise in store for Neil.

TORTURED TO DEATH BY HELLISH FLAME

HORRIBLE IS THE FATE OF MRS. EDWARD SUKAU.

Goes to the Kitchen to Cook Dinner on a Gasoline Stove, and is Fatally Burned—Her Husband also Severely Burned.

Another life was yesterday sacrificed to appease the anger of the gasoline god.

Poor Mrs. Sukau was broiled to a crisp at her home, Ninth and Elwood streets, by the explosion of a gasoline stove in her kitchen, and her husband, Edward F. Sukau, was terribly burned on the hands and arms in attempting to smother the flames that were eating the life out of his wife.

The couple lived in the rear of a one-story frame building, in the front of which was a grocery store. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mrs. Sukau left the store, saying she would get dinner ready, and a few moments later her husband, who had stepped outside, heard a scream, and ran into the kitchen by a side door. He saw the gasoline blazing up in the kitchen, and was about trying to smother it, never suspecting that his wife was at that moment burning to death. Again he heard a scream, this time from the store, and rushing in, found her enveloped in flames. In her agony she had run there, that he might help her.

At first, with his hands, he attempted to keep the fire from her face, but finding himself burning, and no evidence of succeeding in his undertaking, he ran back into the living-room, seized a cover from the bed, and threw it about the burning woman. His efforts were futile, and in telling a reporter about it, he said:

"That fire was hell. It just seemed to burn right through the cover. This time I had pushed her out the store door, and rolled her in the dirt, but it seemed to do no good. I called to somebody to bring a sack of flour, and with that I smothered the fire, but, my God! by that time she was roasted alive.

"When I ran into the store she cried, 'Save me, pa,' and I tried to save her, but it was no use."

Asked for his idea as to how the fire had started, he said he could not tell, but that he knew the stove leaked a little, and the flame did not go entirely out when the fire was turned off.

The poor woman was burned from head to foot, her lips bearing mute testimony that she had inhaled the deadly flames. Her bowels were almost burned through, and her whole body at once swelled into great blisters.

Strange as it may seem, the firemen succeeded in stopping the fire before it got into the storeroom, though the living-rooms were considerably burned, and also the roof of the front portion of the building. The loss on the building is placed at $200 and on the stock at $250, with no insurance on either. The stock was destroyed by water.

Mrs. Sukau, who was perhaps 55 years of age, died at 3:55 o'clock in the afternoon. Besides her husband, she leaves two grown sons.

QUESTION SETTLED.

At a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Lyceum last evening, the supporters of the negative gained the decision of the judges. The resolution was "that an alliance between Great Britain and the United States for the protection and advancement of common interests is expedient."

CAMERA AS DETECTIVE.

The Picture Machine Does Effective Work Among the Strikers in the Pennsylvania Coal Mines.

[New York Mail and Express.] A new discourager of crime has been developed by the strike in the Pennsylvania coal mines. The past has proved that firearms have small terrors for rioters. The building of stockades has served to dampen the enthusiasm of the mob spirit to some extent, but the best move yet made to protect the property of mine owners has been the arming of the guards—not with machine guns or Krag-Jorgensens—but with cameras and flashlights.

It is easy to understand the efficacy of this new aid that science has extended to civilization in its contest with destructive lawlessness. It does not mean so much to men maddened with real or fancied wrongs. Even in a rush upon rifle muzzles back of a 10-foot fence the majority of a mob will escape without a scratch. Courage is epidemic when men are massed and each is willing to take his chance.

It is another matter when each man knows that a tiny puff and flare will be seen by him will print evidence that will later convict him of crime—despite of any testimony that may be arranged in his behalf. The thought of that picture facing him in a trial for trespass or worse makes the air much more lonesome and chilly by loneliness than it was when the only risk was that of catching one bullet out of a basketful. And thereby hangs the reason, in all probability, for the strikers' choice of attacks on trains from ambush as their favorite form of diversion, instead of the raids they were preferred in the past.

The use of the camera as an aid to the detection of crime is not also of the new. It has been a frequent theme with writers of sensational fiction, and has had its share in court proceedings notably in cases of forgery. But it has never before been employed so successfully or on so large a scale as a preventive rather than a detective. It seems well worth the time of criminologists to study whether its use in this respect cannot be extended to the protection of city homes against burglars and city offices against bank robbers.

Train Held Up Dupont, Ill.

Messenger Shot a Robber Caught

Desperadoes Supposed Four in Number—Bag Jewelry Seized.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TI

CHICAGO, July 4.—[Exclusive dispatch.] Four bandits last night held up train No. 5, one of the fastest on Rock Island road, near Dupont, nineteen miles from Chicago. The train was moving at the rate of 60 miles an hour, when two masked men climbed over the tender and, with revolvers at the engineer and fireman, ordered them to stop. The engineer first supposed it was a Fourth of July joke. He was ordered to obey with his life, and he put on the air brakes. The men then ordered him to drive ahead and made him walk to the express car as a decoy. He was ordered to tell the messenger to open the door.

When the messenger appeared the bandits began shooting, and threatened to blow up the car with dynamite unless he gave up the valuables in his possession. Assistant Messenger Kane drew a pistol, and was shot through the right eye. One bandit then ordered the engineer to put out the lights and uncouple the engine. His last effort was unsuccessful.

The messenger, at the point of a pistol, was made to carry a bag containing jewelry over to a fence, where it was leisurely examined. By this time the passengers began piling out of the coaches to learn the cause of the shooting. This frightened the bandits, who fled. It is thought Kane was fatally injured.

GENERAL OFFICE NOTIFIED

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CHICAGO, July 4.—At the general offices of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway, early this morning a dispatch was received telling of the fatal attempt at train robbery, as follows:

"Train No. 5, which left Chicago at 10 p.m. last night, was held up at Dupont, Ill., nineteen miles from Chicago. Express Messenger Kane was shot through the groin by one of the robbers. The bandits undertook to set fire to two front cars of the train. It is thought that there were four robbers in the party. One of them who came over the tank and engine took to give orders to the engineer, was under arrest, and has been taken to Joliet. The injured man was taken to Englewood for surgical treatment. It is not thought that his injuries will be fatal. Engineer Goodall and Conductor Cassidy were in charge of the train."

Engineer-in-Chief Bunau-V Claims That His Judgment in Do Against the Nicaragua Route Has Indorsed by the United State Lampre on Concessions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bunau-Varilla, engineer-in-chief of the French Panama Canal Company, and Edouard Lampre, secretary of the company, were passengers of the French liner Bretagne, which left today for Havre. Before leaving, both officials expressed themselves as much gratified as a result of their joint efforts at Washington in bringing about the sale of the Panama route for the Isthmian canal.

"My own judgment in decision against the Nicaragua route," said Bunau-Varilla, "has been indorsed by the United States. No reflection can be made upon French engineers for selecting what some have said is impracticable route, and the explanation given for the failure of the French to complete the canal will no longer be the incompetence of engineers in attempting to cut a canal through what was said to be insurmountable obstacles, but simply lack of money needed to bring the work to a successful issue.

"I am convinced that the Nicaragua Canal, if begun, would never have been completed, as the impossibility of that route would have been discovered and admitted before work on the canal would have been advanced half way."

M. Lampre declared that no serious obstacles now existed to rapid completion of the canal.

"The Colombian government must attend to civilization in its contact with destructive lawlessness. That does not mean so much to men maddened with real or fancied wrongs. Even in a rush upon rifle muzzles back of a 10-foot fence the majority of a mob will escape without a scratch. Courage is epidemic when men are massed and each is willing to take his chance.

Engineer-in-Chief Bunau Varilla Claims That His Judgment in Deciding Against the Nicaragua Route Has Been Indorsed by the United States—M. Lampre on Concessions.

NEW YORK, July 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bunau-Varilla, engineer-in-chief of the French Panama Canal Company, and Edward Lampre, secretary of the company, were passengers of the French liner Bretagne, which left today for Havre. M. Lampre declared that no serious obstacles now existed to rapid completion of the canal.

"The Colombian government will grant to the French company the privilege of transferring all its rights to the United States. Of this there is not a particle of doubt. The validation of the extension of the canal concession to 1910, although it seems superfluous, the validity of this extension being already established, will also be officially accomplished by the Colombian government. This will probably occupy a year, the ratifications of new treaties between interested parties being necessary after that canal will be ready."

The Little Dears.

They met at a Lincoln Park lagoon—a little girl in the pink silk and the little barefoot girl in the blue gingham.

"So you've just moved into this part of town, have you? Well, I suppose I'll see you at school one of these days."

"Indeed you won't! I shall go to a select private school."

"Oh, you will, will you?"

"Yes, and I think you'd better go right home and put on your shoes and stockings."

"I will if you'll go home and put on your good manners."—[Chicago Tribune.

TRAIL OF BLOOD.

taken more than two or three minutes. Raymond lay dead still clutching his revolver. Williams had his gun still firmly grasped in his hands.

The smoke from the battle had not drifted from the scene before the survivors were working over the dead and wounded. Anderson carried Williams up the railroad track to a place where both he and Raymond had tied a horse and rig. He took the wounded man to the hotel at Bothell.

TRACY'S ESCAPE.

After leaving the stump, Tracy fled through the forest like a hunted animal. The pursuers had no chance to follow. Deep underbrush rose beneath the trees, with here and there a cow patch winding in and out. He went along one of these until he struck the the road which follows almost the same route as the railroad from Bothell to Ravenna. He walked toward the latter place and came upon Johnson, the farmer, who was traveling in his wagon toward his home north of this place. Tracy stepped up to Johnson and said:

"I am a deputy sheriff and one of the men on Tracy's track. I must go to Seattle at once and need your wagon. You will drive me toward the city as quickly as possible; there is no time for delay."

He spoke quickly, but without the least trace of excitement. He hardly gave the farmer time to answer before he had sprung to the seat at his side, and ordered Johnson to drive on.

The last heard of them, they were going rapidly toward Seattle. Perry Vincent, another farmer, who also was driving along the road, saw them. He learned the facts in the case from Johnson, as they passed each other.

Tracy was still dressed in the salt-and-pepper cutaway coat and vest of the same color he secured at South Point near Olympia. He wore a broad-brimmed felt hat, with the brim turned down and pulled down over his face. His face was pale and thin, and he seemed wearied. His face showed that he has no intention of giving up his nervy attempt at escape. The same cunning and obstinacy noticed by the men on the gasoline launch accorded with the descriptions by his pursuers, and, if anything, was more pronounced than ever. Anderson took Williams back to the hotel at Bothell, and there he was attended by Dr. Little of Bothell. Raymond's body was taken to Seattle by train.

ANDERSON'S STORY.

"The fight occurred at about 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon," said Anderson, one of the survivors, "and it was over in an incredibly short time. We were prepared to meet Tracy, and while his appearance was rather sudden, we got into action with our guns at once. His head and neck had hardly shot into view before he fired. We were caught in an ambush, and while Tracy was practically under cover, we were exposed almost entirely to his view. The rain was falling so heavily that we were somewhat hampered in keeping a lookout. We were surrounded by dripping branches. He had the advantage. He was able to watch us approach, while we had to move toward him, not knowing whether he was to the right or left.

"Not a syllable was uttered from the time we started up the path until we went to Williams's assistance. Williams was about 100 feet away, and separated from our crowd when the fight opened. He was still some distance away when Tracy saw him and turned his Winchester on him."

Sefreit was reported dead at Bothell, but he escaped almost without a scratch. Almost as soon as the report of the battle reached Bothell, Sheriff Cudihee had his men in pursuit of the Oregon criminal.

TWO MORE VICTIMS.

The posse which left Seattle on a special train at 7:30 this evening, headed by Deputy Sheriff Quilter, and bound for Bothell, did not encounter Tracy, and almost before they had reached their destination the phantom-like murderer had not only reappeared in another locality, but added another victim to his ever-growing list of human lives taken, and fatally wounded another.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this evening Tracy was located in the home of Mrs. R. H. Van Horn at the southwest corner of Woodland Park. The news was conveyed to Fremont by a butcher's boy, who broke the intelligence just as Sheriff Cudihee drove into the suburb from Bothell. The house was quickly surrounded, but Tracy again exemplified his unprecedented luck and iron nerve by deliberately fighting his way through the guards, killing Policeman E. E. Breece, mortally wounding Guard Neil Rawley, and disappearing into the brush toward Ravenna Park. Sheriff Cudihee twice had a bead upon the desperado, but was unable to fire for the reason that the fugitive had taken the precaution to walk between two impressed men, whose lives would have been imperiled had the Sheriff opened fire with his rifle.

HE AGAIN ESCAPES.

At 9 o'clock this evening a delivery boy went to Fremont from this city for the purpose of delivering some groceries at the home of Mrs. Van Horn which is a two-story house situated on the Richmond Beach road. He was met at the door by Mrs. Van Horn who cautioned him to keep quiet. She hysterically whispered in his ear the startling information that Tracy was at that moment eating his dinner in a room adjoining the kitchen.

The boy tore from the premises post haste and delivering his box started his horse on the dead run for Fremont. He stopped on the Main thoroughfare, and desemated the information which he had received. At this juncture Sheriff Cudihee, who had secured a buggy at Bothell and driven towards the city, knowing that Tracy was headed in this direction, arrived.

The news of the desperado's proximity to Fremont struck terror into the hearts of bystanders, but a few resolute men quickly resolved to make a desperate attempt to surround the Van Horn home. Patrolman Breece, Neil Rawley, a coal miner, and J. I. Knight, a local insurance man, quickly armed themselves, and headed toward the spot. Sheriff Cudihee without the loss of a moment's time also repaired to the place, and in the gathering gloom the men distributed themselves around their unsuspecting quarry. Cudihee secreted himself in a spot which would command an unobstructed view of the team hitched in front of the Van Horn home, and three other volunteer guards took up positions in a semi-circular fashion on the opposite side of the road. Neither had to wait long, for hardly had the men secreted themselves, when Tracy, walking midway between an aged rancher, whom he had held up, and at the point of his gun forced to drive him toward Fremont, and another man who mysteriously disappeared after the shooting, left the house from the front door.

KNIGHT'S STORY.

What followed is best told in the words of Knight, who participated in the thrilling escounter which immediately followed:

"We got the boy to direct us to the house," said he, "and stationed ourselves as described. We readily located the spot by the fact that the team was hitched in plain view in front of the gate. I was hiding within six feet of the team. Tracy and two men came out, the desperado walking between the two. They approached the horses from the side opposite where I was concealed, and passed within six feet of where I was crouching. It had grown dark so that it was only a matter of conjecture as to the position occupied by the three men.

"Breeze arose and called out, 'Drop that gun, Tracy?' just as the middle man passed around where I lay concealed. No sooner had the words left his lips than two shots rang out in quick succession, and by the flash of the last one I saw Breeze reel and fall to the ground. I did not know at the time that one of the bullets had also found a target in Rawley, who I could see by the flash stood within a few feet of Breeze. I am certain that Breeze also fired before he fell to the ground. Here I arose from my place of concealment and fired two shots at the retreating murderer."

CUDIHEE SHOOTS TWICE.

It appears that Sheriff Cudihee saw Tracy and his companions from the moment they left the house until the duel between Breeze and Tracy occurred. He was helpless to act, however, for the desperado was constantly moving, and kept in a position where to have opened fire from Cudihee's position would have placed the lives of two innocent men in imminent danger. As Breeze fell to the ground Cudihee jumped a fence behind which he had been stationed, and fired two shots in quick succession at Tracy, who was fleeing with all speed for the brush alongside the road. Sheriff Cudihee was unable to state positively whether either of his shots went home, but he is strongly inclined to the belief that the last one entered Tracy's body as he disappeared in the brush.

THINK THEY HAVE MERRILL.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOISE (Idaho) July 3.—At Nampa tonight a man was arrested whom the officers believe to be David Merrill, the convict who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary with Tracy.

CLARK'S STORY.

NERVE OF THE FELON.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 3.—The only word from Tracy, the escaped convict, this morning is the statement given out by the Sheriff's office that Tracy had been seen at 6:30 o'clock on the Northern Pacific tracks near the State University, heading toward Woodenville.

"It was far from being a pleasant trip," said Capt. Clark of the launch H. and S. "We were in the company of Tracy from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6:30 in the evening. All day he displayed the most daring recklessness regarding the taking of human life, and all day he exercised the most exacting vigilance to prevent us from getting the drop on him in any manner, or even from discussing the matter among ourselves for the purpose of forming a plan for simultaneous action. We were all unarmed.

"On just one occasion during the day did there seem to be for a single moment an opportunity to take him at a disadvantage. That was when off McNeil's Island, when he leaned over the side of the launch to take a shot at the seals. That was the only time during the day he actually fired off his rifle, though he was constantly pointing it at men and objects, including us. The seal was on the surface of the water, some two hundred yards from the boat, and in a spirit of bravado he raised his rifle and fired at it. He missed the seal, but the boat was rolling some, and the ball struck in the water immediately above it, showing a first-class shot.

"As he was firing, the chance for which I had been watching seemed to present itself for a moment, and I made a move toward him, thinking to push him over the barge while his back was turned.

"As I did so he raised up slightly as though he had abandoned the idea of shooting, and in order to elude any suspicion on his part as to my intentions I turned my face away as though to look after the boat. As I did so he fired; then before I could return my attention to his actions he had turned around and reloaded his rifle from the chamber.

"I had been working for the Capital City Oyster Company, the launch being under charter to the company to carry oysters from one bed to another. I entered the company's house about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and found a man with a gun there backed into the door leading to the stairs. I supposed the boys were playing some prank and paid no further attention to him or to the other men, but proceeded to eat breakfast I noticed that the rest of the men seemed to be unusually quiet, but even that did not cause me to look around, my mind being on other matters. As the other men had been already apprised of the conditions, they were somewhat uncommunicative

"When through breakfast I reached my hand into my pocket and then, for the first time since I had entered, the stranger spoke, saying: 'Take your hands out of your pockets, captain. You have a gun there. It is no use for you to draw it.'

"'Who are you?' I demanded, turning around.

"'Tracy,' he replied.

"Then after ordering the cook to put him up a lunch he ordered four of us to tie the other two men in the party and then to proceed to the launch. Arriving at the launch he helped us to get under way, all the time keeping his hands on his rifle.

"We set sail about 10 o'clock, and it was his first desire to land on the beach near Tacoma. He said that he wanted to go as near as he could to McNeil's Island in order to take a shot or two at the guards there."

The rest of Clark's story does not differ from the accounts sent out last night.

THINKS MERRILL IS DEAD

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash) July 3—"No more oyster fishing for me," said Frank Scott this morning, in conversation with a representative of the Associated Press. "After this week I will be living in luxury at the expense of the taxpayers of Oregon."

So confident is Scott of the truth of the story which Tracy told him in all of its most minute details that he is going to throw up his job on his arrival at Olympia today, and in company with a single companion go to Chehalis, in Lewis county, to locate the dead body of Merrill, and if he succeeds in locating it, to turn it over to the authorities of Oregon for the reward offered for it, dead or alive.

"I shot him in the back," said Tracy, "but he was going to shoot me. We quarreled. The day before the quarrel we found a newspaper, which contained an account of our escape, and the pursuit. That account gave Merrill equal credit with myself for the deeds which I alone committed. The newspapers since we escaped have all along persisted in giving him equal credit for the escape, and the getaway with me. The fact of the case is that he did not have the nerve of a rabbit. He always wanted to sneak through the country, keeping under cover, and preferred to go hungry rather than show himself for the purpose of getting food.

"That is not my style. No man can take me alone. And if I had a proper traveling companion, a man of nerve, I could not be taken by a regiment of deputies. If I am shot, it will be from behind.

"When I got the paper and saw that the reporters and people thought he had some nerve it made me hot. I thought at first I would shake him and travel alone, but before we agreed to separate I taunted him with his cowardice, and he got huffy. Then we agreed to fight a duel. This was in the woods in Lewis county, not far from Cehalis.

"We agreed to start together from a line, and walk ten steps each, in opposite directions from each other, and then turn simultaneously and begin firing. From his manner in making the arrangements I was convinced that he was intending to turn before he had taken ten steps, and I was determined not to let him get the drop on me. So when I had taken eight steps I turned around, and took a shot at him. I hit him in the back. The first shot did not finish him, and I shot again. I then concealed the body in the brush and proceeded on my way."

ANNUAL MEETING OF AVALON TUNA CLUB.

MEMBERS TELL OF THEIR FIGHTS WITH THE SEA TIGER.

Practically the Same Officers as Last Year Re-elected for Another Term—Connecticut Man Lost in the Hills Remains Out All Night.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

AVALON, July 3.—The event of the year with the members of the Tuna Club, aside from the taking of the first tuna of the season, is their annual banquet, which was given with great eclat last evening in the spacious dining hall of Hotel Metropole. Gen. A. W. Barrett, president of the Tuna Club, presided, while seated at the table were the following, mostly members of the club: Col. R. A. Eddy, C. C. Paine, Col. John E. Stearns, F. J. Rabbeth, F. V. Rider, E. T. Smith, E. M. Hough, Rev. F. W. Clampitt, William R. Buntry, A. M. Shields, Dr. H. W. Lane, Gen. A. L. New, O. O. Orr, John Caffrey, William Wolff, R. W. Hersey, James H. Prince, E. N. Dickerson, F. O. Johnson, George S. Patton, H. E. Paine and Eugene Atwood.

After disposing of the viands, the intellectual feast and flow of reason began, Gen. Barrett acting as toastmaster. His first toast was to the memory of the late F. S. Schenck, one of the best known, best liked and most enthusiastic, anglers of the club during his life. This toast was eloquently responded to by F. V. Rider, the club secretary. Gen. New told of the wireless telegraph wonder, and promised that if any member of the club brought in a tuna today, the news should be transmitted to Los Angeles within the first quarter of an hour after it was landed here.

Rev. Frederick Clampitt of San Francisco told how he caught his first tuna, when he labored for hours as he never did before. John Caffrey of San Francisco, pictured most picturesquely some of the awkward situations he had gotten into by telling stories of tuna fishing, and told of the "laughing jackass" of Australia. James H. Prince of Boston, compared the tuna and the tarpon, saying that he could land a 150-pound tarpon within half an hour, but when he hooked his tuna he thought he had a locomotive and train of cars at the other end of his line.

William R. Buntry of Seattle, grew poetical, and perpetrates the following poem:

"The Tuna—elusive dweller of the sea,
That grows and grows, and grows—
Whose fame extends as Banyan tree,
And grows, and grows, and grows.

"From o'er the land, from East, from West,
They come of Fishermen (the old) the best;
Thy fame it grows, it grows, it grows.

We cast our lines, the billows rise;
We kiss the waves; they kiss the skies.
We see him mount from out the sea,
His blue-backed, shining sides! Ah, me!
His size and prowess—then we feel
As madly flashing past our keel
He grows, and grows, and grows.

"We get the strike. The electric shock
Fills mind and muscle chuck a-block.
It grows, and grows, who knows.

"The reel it sings. We hear the click.
And grasp—the break—his little trick.
Who knows. He goes, and goes—

"Away he goes—no flight of Hind
Outstrips his pace; nor summer wind
His progress can compare.

Once more he rises from the deep.
He mounts the wave, his fame to keep,
And show's He's free—while you're asleep
He travels on—and often leaps, and leaps,
And grows, and grows and grows.

"I've hung my rod upon the wall;
My lines, my outfit, hopes and all.
The doctor grave, and gray, and tall,
He says my wounds are slight
Just a few slight bruises, that is all.
You'll be all right tonight.

Expenses—yes—they are—who knows.
A modest sum, that grows, and grows.

"I hope next year, if the Tuna come,
The undersigned will hear the hum
Of reel, and see him rise,
Well-hooked in bright translucent skies.
Then from the deep my song shall well
O'er Golden West, in Orient dell
Thy grace, thy beauty, thy fight I'll tell.
My brother fishers say 'twill be—
Oh, Tuna, none compare with thee
The story few of many know.
There's room—perhaps—for it to grow,
I think, you think, maybe 'tis so."

The function was brought to a close with the annual election of officers, which is practically the same as last year.

LOST IN THE HILLS.

Eugene Marvel, who, with his mother, Mrs. Mary G. Marvel of Hartford, Ct., are guests of Mrs. F. B. Warner at Camp Idlewyld, went out yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock for a stroll in the hills. He was unacquainted with the devious ways of Catalina, but he knows more about them today. He went up the stage road leisurely, and having no timepiece with him, took little note of how time was passing, and it was just about night when he reached the summit. Used to long twilights at home, he thought he would have no trouble in reaching home, and would take a shorter way across the hills for a change. He soon found himself in a deep cañon, and before he could get out the light had failed. Reaching an elevation he heard the music of the band, and thought it would be easy to follow the sound and reach home. His way led him down into another cañon, then a hill almost as steep as the side of a house was to be surmounted. He climbed up, and there was another yawning cañon immediately beyond. He kept climbing down and up, and soon the music ceased. Then he was uncertain of his direction, but kept on climbing, stumbling over rocky ledges, into thickets of cacti, thistles and brush until he was bruised, sore and well nigh exhausted.

In the meantime his mother and his aunt, Mrs. Warner, were alarmed at his non-appearance, and as the hours went by concluded some accident had befallen him, but by accident learned that he had been seen on the stage road, and they sent a couple of young men, Clarence Morris and Charles de Higy, to search for him. They shouted and fired pistols all the way to the summit and built a bonfire there, but heard nothing of the lost man, and returned home at 3 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Marvel finally became excited to such a degree that morphine was administered to quiet her. About 5 o'clock this morning the young man made his way into camp, having spent the entire night in tramping about through the labyrinth of hills was unable to find his way out till daylight showed him where the town lay.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents, without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly, state clearly. The space of 250 words, on the average, is sufficient for the expression of an idea.]

A Defense of Texas.

[Following are essential portions of a letter received by The Times:]

LOS ANGELES, July 2, 1902.—[To the Editor of The Times:] . . . I am not a native Texan; but I lived there for many years—lived upon the extreme frontier among the cattlemen of the plains, where, if at all, lawlessness and disregard of social rights, would be most apt to exhibit themselves. Nor was my knowledge of the Lone Star State confined to its outer borders; for I spent the greater part of two years in that section of it which represents the other extreme—at the little college center of Georgetown, which has been pedantically christened the Athens of Texas. Then, too, I have traveled, hunted, camped and visited throughout the State, and may rightly claim a more than ordinary familiarity with its people, its institutions, and its social conditions.

Texas is not lawless. It is not a place "where they eat fire." It is not a State of "negro-burners" nor of "devotees of Judge Lynch." There, as here, and as elsewhere throughout the Union, some frightful crime has occasionally so outraged the public as to invite swift and merited punishment upon the criminal. In one instance there was a negro burned—burned for the unthinkable outrage, fully confessed, of deflowering a four-year-old baby, and then rending her limb from limb in mere brutish wantonness. . . . Great evils require stringent remedies. At times the law, however admirable its general administration, is too slow of foot to overtake with deterrent effect the perpetrators of certain crimes. In its ordinary enforcement through the customary channels it has no terror for these fiends incarnate—it neither serves to punish them for the given offense nor to deter others, whose only restraint is physical fear, from emulating their bad eminence.

However, whether or not lynching is justifiable under these or any circumstances, is a matter upon which men may reasonably differ. . . .

There may have been other negroes burned in Texas for similar offenses; but, if so, I do not recall the fact. Conceding, however, that Texans have been guilty of indefensible lynchings, as they in some instances doubtless have been, does that condemn the State or make it a byword of reproach? Where is the State or nation some of whose citizens have not been often equally guilty? Even the history of conservative New England has bloody pages of lawless frenzy written by the hand of ungovernable, superstitious fury. Mobs in our own beautiful and beloved California, home of the world-famed Vigilantes, have committed wholesale outrages upon Chinamen from purely racial motives; yet we would most properly resent an indiscriminate condemnation of the State for those outrages. But yesterday an entire family was hanged by a California community because they were petty larcenists and had annoyed their neighbors with their pilferings. . . .

In recent years California has been the theater of many famous and brutal crimes. Durrant, Dunham, Hoff (of the name unpronouncable,) Worden, the Downey murderer and others form a galaxy of world-famous criminals; yet theirs were the acts of individuals, not of the community, and would not warrant thoughtless wholesale denunciation of the State by any conservator of the public morals. . . .

Texas is law-abiding—as much so as any State in the Union. Her criminal laws are excellent and well administered. The decisions of her Court of Criminal Appeals rank as authority among the very first. Civilly she maintains the rights of her citizens with a master hand. Corruption in her courts is practically unknown. They are neither throttled by corporations nor dictated to by political bosses. She is one of that great galaxy of sisters who form the Union; and her citizens are manly, self-respecting, law-abiding Americans. . . .

Respectfully,

W. H. ANDERSON.

Protection for Bathers.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The recent drowning accident at Long Beach recalls to my mind several similar sad events that have occurred at that beach during the past few years. In fact each of the beaches claims one or more victims, by drowning, every summer, but it seems as though the fatalities to bathers at Long Beach is greater than at all the other resorts put together. This is certainly not a very enviable record for a seaside resort to get and leads us to inquire "must these things be?" Can these accidents be prevented? Is somebody negligent in their duty?

It is generally conceded that the currents and tide rips make surf bathing at Long Beach especially dangerous to those not familiar with the water there. Yet not a word of warning is said to the unwary bather and scarcely any provision is made for rescuing drowning persons. A friend of mine living at Long Beach often bathes in the surf, but so treacherous does he consider the water that he makes it his invariable rule to wade out his distance and then swim toward the shore, thereby avoiding the danger of being carried out to sea.

I have been told that the coast resorts of the Atlantic provide various means for rescuing those who are in danger while bathing. Some have a small life-saving crew with life-lines and life-boats always at hand. Ropes with buoys attached extend to rafts that are anchored some distance from the shore enclosing a space that is safe for bathing.

Certainly this much could be provided at all of our beaches and notices could be posted warning all who went beyond these lines that it was dangerous. Numerous life-lines should be placed along the beach, properly arranged for running rapidly out to succor the struggling one from a watery grave.

Every bath-house should have its attendants drilled in the use of this life-line, and instructed in the method of resuscitating the drowning. These are simple procedures and any person of ordinary intelligence is capable of rapidly acquiring the necessary skill.

It seems a pity that so many lives should be given up uselessly, and so many homes saddened when a little caution and help from those who are familiar with the sea and its changing moods might prevent it. It is in the hope of stirring up those who have been derelict in their duty that I write these lines.

ONE WHO BATHES.

SANTA BARBARA.

ALLEGED FORGER HELD.

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—The man arrested here on Monday evening, under the assumed name of Farrington, on complaint of his wife, whom he deserted at Bloomington, Ill., appeared before Justice Wheaton yesterday afternoon for preliminary hearing. His wife, Mrs. McKenna, and daughter, the latter having arrived from Bloomington Tuesday night, in response to a telegram from the District Attorney, were present, as was also the woman with whom McKenna had eloped, and with whom he had been living in this city as his wife, the latter having been brought to the courtroom by the Sheriff. The object of the wife's arrest under the charge of adultery, is to hold McKenna in confinement until the Sheriff of Bloomington arrives to return with the prisoner to face the charge of forgery. On motion of Attorney Crow who appeared in behalf of McKenna, the case was continued until Monday, at 2 o'clock.

SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES.

The situation of the plumbers' strike remains unchanged, and the plumbers of this city, except those employed on the Potter Hotel, are idle.

Interest with regard to school matters centers about a contest respecting the Ynes district, across the mountains. The election for trustees occurred at the proper time, three trustees running for two offices. There was an issue as to the retention in office of a certain teacher. The voters had an agreement as to which trustee should serve for which terms; yet only those who voted for Mr. Donohoe, who received the smallest number of votes, specified on their ticket for which term he was to be elected. County Superintendent Edwards has decided that only Donohoe is legally elected, and the only man he will recognize as trustee. Mr. Crab, who received the highest number of votes, insists there was no election, as the election board was not sworn in, and that the schoolhouse where the voting occurred, is not in the school district, and so has contested the case.

By resolution of the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting the name of the beautiful cañon at the foot of the mountain trail has been changed from Rattlesnake Cañon back to its original name of Las Cañoas.

George Porteous of Los Angeles, formerly of this city, died yesterday at the home of J. H. Burson at the age of 24, of diabetes. Porteous came here several months ago for his health. The remains were taken yesterday evening to Los Angeles for interment.

MINES AND MINING.

GREAT GOLD DREDGER SOON TO OPERATE.

PLANT READY FOR WORK ON RIVER NEAR YUMA.

Much Capital in Enterprise—Col. Ewing Found Ice Chest Cool at Needles—Lone Mountain Sold—Senator Jones Buys Moore.

The Bullion Bar Dredging Company, which controls under lease the fine gravel properties and mammoth gold dredger of the Advance Gold Dredging Company at Potholes, fourteen miles above Yuma, is preparing for operations. The dredger, which has lain idle for several months on account of a disagreement among the owners of the property, is being placed in first-class condition, and it will not be long before a test will be made with the big dredger.

If successful it will open up an almost unlimited field along the Colorado River, where there are thousands of acres of gravel bars and banks rich in gold.

Recent tests made by the Bullion Bar Company have been in every respect successful, and in the enterprise soon to be launched, over $100,000 has been invested by those who are confident that a great money-making proposition is soon to be opened up.

The big dredger is the largest of the kind in the United States, and it will be in operation in about a week.

EWING IN THE COOLER.

Col. Thomas Ewing, president of the Southwest Miners' Association, found one cool place at Needles during the recent hot spell. It was in the ice chest of a butcher's shop, and the story is going the rounds that after discovering the one retreat where the thermometer was not recording 120 deg. in the shade, he took possession of it and held it despite the protests of the irate butcher.

The annual meeting of the Southwest Miners' Association will be held in the association headquarters next Tuesday evening, and besides the election of a new board of directors, the matter of securing more suitable quarters for the growing exhibit will be discussed.

LONE MOUNTAIN SOLD.

The Lone Mountain mine, twenty miles south of the famous Tonopah district of Southern Nevada, has been sold. The consideration was $240,000, and of that amount $10,000 has been paid, and $50,000 is to be paid every ninety days until the property has been paid for. The property is one of the most promising in that rich corner of Nevada, and the purchasers are preparing to open it up. The discoverer of the mine is a Shoshone Indian, and he shares in the revenue derived from the recent sale.

MOORE MINE SOLD.

The Moore mine, a mile south of the Jackson, Amador county, was sold recently under a judgment for $70,290 to A. Frankl, who is supposed to represent Senator Jones and W. A. Nevills, former part owners in the property. This property, although said to contain rich ore bodies, has been idle for fifteen years.

PROSPECTS OF HENRIETTA.

The Henrietta mine, one of the properties of the Braganza Gold Mining Company, in the Big Bug district of Arizona, is now one of the coming properties of that well-known district. A contract has just been let for a 1500-foot tunnel on the Big Bug side of the hill. The erection of a twenty-stamp mill has been completed.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Boy and Toy Pistol.

Clifford Ettien, a small boy living at No. 405½ South Broadway, tried to fit blank cartridges in a toy pistol yesterday afternoon. The "toy" blew a chunk of wadding into his finger.

What Toy Caps Did.

Helen Jacquith, an 8-year-old girl living at 233 West First street, was playing with toy caps yesterday afternoon and was severely burned on the hand.

Shove Breaks an Arm.

Mrs. Pat Garrity, living at No. 744 Gibbons street, started from her house yesterday morning, when a neighbor visiting her gave her a friendly shove. The porch railing against which Mrs. Garrity was leaning gave way and she fell, breaking her left arm. She was treated at the receiving hospital.

Pre-Fourth Fires.

About half a dozen grass and brush fires, as a forerunner of what may be expected when the Glorious Fourth gets in full blast today, called the department out yesterday. None of them caused serious conflagration, but were the source of more or less wear and tear on the men and the apparatus.

Title Quieted.

By the decision of Judge Ross of the United States Circuit Court the Southern Pacific Company is enjoined from taking possession of forty acres of land in Riverside and San Bernardino counties, which was claimed by the corporation under a grant to the Atlantic and Pacific Company. The suit has been pending ten years.

Joint Installation.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen and Degree of Honor, the women's auxiliary organization connected with that order, held a joint installation last night at No. 610 South Spring street. There was a large attendance, and the public exercises were followed by an hour of social enjoyment. Light refreshments were served.

Illness of Nurses.

Twelve nurses at the Sisters' Hospital have suffered during the past two weeks with mild attacks of typhoid fever, but the disease has run its course, and a further outbreak is not expected. Analyses of the milk and water supplies failed to show any typhus germs, and it is thought the epidemic had its origin in the use of certain fruits and vegetables.

Big Debts; Small Assets.

Aurelia J. Corker of Los Angeles, a housewife, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court. She schedules debts of $9000 of which $2500 is in secured claims and the remainder unsecured. Her assets are $435, of which $50 is claimed to be exempt. The liabilities consist chiefly of court judgments, proceedings on which are still pending.

Deacon's Orders.

Bishop Montgomery conferred deacon's orders on Rev. William Ponet yesterday morning, at St. Vincent Catholic Church, corner of Grand avenue and Washington street. Those assisting the bishop were Rev. Martin, C.M., and Very Rev. J. S. Glass, C.M. Rev. Ponet will celebrate mass for the first time at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning at St. Vincent's Church.

Normal Dormitory.

Alumni of the State Normal School have pledged $25,000 toward the cost of a new dormitory on the school grounds, and an effort will be made to obtain a similar appropriation from the State, making a total of $50,000 for the desired building. A committee of the alumni, which will collect the subscribed sum, is composed of the following members: Miss Laura Variel, Miss Mary Workman, Dr. Thorpe and E. R. Young.

Fencing Club Entertains.

The Fencing Club, which has recently opened quarters in the rooms of the Ruskin Art Club, in the Blanchard Building, was the scene of a social last night. The men of the club entertained the women members and their friends, to the number of about twenty-five. There were several exhibition bouts, followed by music by a mandolin club and several vocal solos. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Rebekahs Entertain.

The Rebekah lodges of Los Angeles, assisted by members of Union and Columbia circles, G.A.R., Stanton Rebel Corps and members of various Odd Fellow lodges, gave an entertainment in Elks' Hall last night, for the benefit of a stricken Rebekah. A large audience was present to listen to the good programme provided, a feature of which was a drill by the champion team of the Woodmen of the World. At the conclusion of the programme there was dancing.

Delegates Chosen.

Court Los Angeles, No. 422, Independent Order of Foresters, at a meeting last evening, elected the following delegates to the session of the High Court at Pomona, October 19: R. E. Wirsching, Albert Wallace, F. A. Walls, J. L. Montgomery, John Hughes, A. Shepard, F. W. Wismer, Ed Lloyd and O. H. Nunnaley. Court La Fiesta named B. H. Franklin, W. C. Woodman, Dr. F. R. Frost and A. G. Gibbs. A meeting of the twelve courts in Los Angeles will be held soon to draft legislation to submit to the High Court.

Funeral of H. F. Truitt.

The funeral services over the remains of H. F. Truitt of The Times business office staff were held in the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon, and the auditorium was filled with friends of deceased. The speakers were Rev. Edwin J. Inwood, who was Mr. Truitt's pastor on Boyle Heights; Rev. Mr. Mather, his first pastor in California, at Pomona; and Rev. W. B. Bell, pastor of the Garvanza Methodist Church, to which organization Mr. Truitt had recently transferred his membership. Each paid touching tributes to the integrity, sterling worth and Christian character of the deceased. A quartette from the Boyle Heights choir rendered music, and a duet was sung by Mrs. W. R. Bacon and Mr. Bell of Garvanza, with fine effect, the selection being one rendered at the last public service in which Mr. Truitt had participated. At Evergreen Cemetery a delegation of United Moderns conducted ritualistic service. There were many beautiful floral offerings, including one from Times employes.

WILD WITH ECZEMA
And Other Itching, Burning, Scaly Eruptions with Loss of Hair.
Speedy Cure Treatment $1.00

Bathe the affected parts with Hot Water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, scaly, pimply humours, eczemas, rashes, irritations, and chafings, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. Such are the CUTICURA remedies, the purest, sweetest, most speedy and economical curatives for the skin, scalp, and blood ever compounded. Mothers are their warmest friends.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap

Assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes and chafings, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and inflammations of women, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS (Chocolate Coated) are a new, tasteless, odorless, economical substitute for the celebrated Liquid CUTICURA RESOLVENT, as well as for all other blood purifiers and humour cures. Put up in screw-capped pocket vials, containing 60 doses, price 50c. CUTICURA PILLS are alterative, antiseptic, tonic, and digestive, and the most convenient, pleasant, economical and economical of blood and skin purifiers, humour cures, and tonic-digestives.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold throughout the world. Brief Mention, Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Av., Boston, Mass. U. S. A. "All about the Skin, Scalp, and Hair," free.

Dr. Schiffman extracted sixteen teeth for me by his painless method and replaced them by a removable bridge above and one of his famous flexible rubber plates below. I can truly say the extracting was painless, and the teeth made by him are satisfactory in every respect. J. HOWLETT, 1205 N. Main St.

I have had two teeth extracted without pain; have also had bridge work done by Dr. Schiffman two years ago, which gives me great pleasure in recommending to any one wishing good and lasting work done. WM. HUMPHREY, 325 Towne ave.

I have had three teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman without any pain whatever. I have also had bridge work done by him, which gives me great satisfaction, and for promptness and courteous treatment I think he is unequaled. MRS. C. F. BROWN, 214 Avery street.

After having had some very poor crown and bridge work done by another dentist of Los Angeles, I consulted Dr. Schiffman and found it absolutely necessary to have same removed, as it was giving me trouble. I have since had Dr. Schiffman replace crowns and bridges and find them to my entire satisfaction. I take great pleasure in recommending him to my friends who are in need of dental work. FRANK YOUNG, 1334 North Hill St.

I have had porcelain crown work and some fillings done, also had all the roots extracted by Dr. Schiffman, and take great pleasure in recommending his method to any one wishing dental work done without pain. MRS. C. T. W. SCHRAMM, Mother of Palace Schramm, corner Austin and Wadsworth.
